WHAT IS THRESHOLD?

A near-future supernatural roleplaying game about Wardens: people who have crossed the Threshold and now protect their city from the unseen.

01 AN ANCIENT DUTY

The Wardens are an ancient tradition, but few Wardens grow old. Their duty reaches back to the first cities. Wardens fought defending Jericho against threats ordinary people could neither perceive nor understand. Across generations and cultures, the names, customs and methods have changed, but the purpose has endured: to keep what should remain hidden from harming the city.

02 THE CITY BENEATH THE CITY

Every city has an underlayer of hidden relationships, unofficial powers, secret communities and rival factions. Some are mundane — smugglers, fixers, dissidents and criminal crews. Others belong to the hidden supernatural world.

Wardens may cross paths with both, but mundane gangs and ordinary criminal conflict are not a Warden's concern unless the supernatural becomes involved. The city's underworld is complex, and knowing when to look closer — and when to look away — is part of a Warden's judgement.

03 PLAYING THRESHOLD

In Threshold, you play a Warden. You investigate hauntings, possessions, crossings, predatory entities, occult disturbances, and incidents where the hidden world intrudes upon the city.

Wardens protect a city from the supernatural, not humanity in the abstract and not the city from ordinary crime. You are not vigilantes, soldiers, or general problem-solvers. Your duty is narrower, stranger and older: to see what others cannot, and to confront what should not be here.

CORE IDEA

- The Veil hides the unseen from most people.
- Crossing the Threshold means you can no longer look away.
- Wardens stay and act.

> "Wardens protect a city from the supernatural."

HOW TO PLAY THRESHOLD

Threshold is a tabletop roleplaying game. You and your friends create Wardens and tell a shared story of investigation, danger and the unseen, set in a near-future city.

01 WHAT IS A ROLEPLAYING GAME?

A roleplaying game is a collaborative storytelling game. You take on the roles of fictional characters and describe what they do, while the Gamesmaster (GM) describes the world around you, the people you meet and the consequences of your actions. There are no winners or losers — you succeed or fail as a group, and the story develops through your choices.

02 THE PLAYERS

Each player creates a Warden and decides who they are, what they believe and how they approach the dangers of the city. You describe what your Warden does — investigate, negotiate, sneak, fight or use the unseen — and roll dice when the outcome is uncertain.

03 THE GAMESMASTER

The Gamesmaster (GM) presents the city, its people and its threats. The GM describes locations, plays the other characters and the supernatural, and decides the results of your actions using the rules. The GM is not your opponent, but a guide and the referee for the world.

04 A TYPICAL SESSION

A session of Threshold usually involves investigation, conversation and difficult choices, with moments of tension, danger and action. You might explore an abandoned building, question a witness, follow a lead into the unseen, or confront a supernatural threat. The story is driven by your decisions and the consequences that follow.

THE THREE LAWS

1. The Veil protects the unaware.
2. Crossing the Threshold removes the Veil's protection permanently.
3. Humanity's subconscious creates and maintains the Veil.

HOW TO USE THIS BOOK

- This Introduction gives you an overview of the game, the core ideas and how to play.
- The World of Threshold explores the city, the Veil, the supernatural and the major factions.
- Creating a Warden explains character creation, careers, skills and equipment.
- The Rules cover task resolution, combat, the unseen and the unique mechanics of Threshold.
- The best way to learn is to read this section, create Wardens and play!

CHARACTER CREATION

CREATING A WARDEN

TEN STEPS TO BUILD YOUR WARDEN

STARTING RESOURCES | 1,000 XP | 10,000 CROWNS

1 BACKGROUNDS

Choose one or more Backgrounds to establish where your character comes from and what kind of life they led.

2 ATTRIBUTES

Generate your character's nine core attributes, which influence what they can do and how they handle stress and the supernatural.

3 SKILLS AND LEVELS

Familiarise yourself with the Skills and Skill Levels granted by your Background, and learn how Skills work.

4 SPECIALIST SKILLS

Review any Specialist Skills granted by your Background and the Specialist Skills available later in character creation.

5 OPRs

Review the Other Proficiencies (OPRs) gained from your Background and the additional OPRs available to you.

6 CONTACTS

Review any Contacts gained so far and familiarise yourself with how Contacts work before gaining or choosing more later.

7 HOBBIES

Add hobbies, interests or personal pursuits to give your character depth, flavour and additional abilities.

8 CAREERS

Choose a Career and record all Career details, including training, equipment, income and advancement options.

9 EQUIPMENT

Spend your starting Crowns on the gear you need for your character, including weapons, armour and personal items.

10 FINISH YOUR WARDEN

Calculate any derived values, complete your character sheet, and make any final checks.

OPTIONAL CHARACTER DETAILS

NAME GENERATION (OPTIONAL)	Choose your character's name and any aliases, callsigns or other identities, or use the d666 Name Generator in the appendix for inspiration.
FORMATIVE YEARS (OPTIONAL)	If you want additional inspiration for your character's past, roll on the Formative Years tables in the appendix to generate their Family, Formative Event, Influence and Legacy.

- Ranks from Backgrounds start at Rank 0 and may be improved normally.
- Backgrounds represent your life before your path as a Warden—not your career.

ATTRIBUTES

THE FOUNDATION OF A WARDEN

Your attributes represent your natural capabilities — the physical, mental and spiritual foundations you build your character on. They define what you can do, what you can endure, and how far you can go.

Every Warden is different. These nine attributes shape who you are, but they do not define you.

END

ENDURANCE

Your overall toughness, stamina and resistance to physical and environmental stress. END helps you withstand harm, fatigue and harsh conditions.

STR

STRENGTH

Raw physical power. Determines how much you can lift, hit and push. STR is used for feats of strength and close-quarters physical actions.

AGI

AGILITY

Your coordination, reflexes and physical grace. AGI is used for balance, dexterity, evasion and precise movement.

INT

INTELLIGENCE

Your ability to learn, reason and solve problems. INT is used for technical knowledge, analysis and working things out.

EDU

EDUCATION

Your formal knowledge and general schooling. EDU is used for academic, professional and bureaucratic skills.

INIT

INITIATIVE

Your speed of thought and reaction in a crisis. INIT determines your position in the action order and how quickly you can respond when it matters.

CHA

CHARISMA

Your presence, willpower and ability to influence others. CHA is used for leadership, persuasion and social interaction.

WILL

WILLPOWER

Your mental resilience, focus and determination. WILL is used to resist fear, mental attacks and maintain control.

ESS

ESSENCE

Your connection to the Veil. ESS represents your spiritual resilience and capacity to channel or withstand the supernatural.

GENERATING ATTRIBUTES

YOUR POTENTIAL, YOUR CHOICES

Attributes represent your character's natural capabilities — the physical, mental and spiritual foundations you build upon.

You can generate your attributes using either a point buy system or by rolling dice. Both methods produce capable Wardens, so choose the one that best fits your group and the style of campaign you want.

METHOD 1: POINT BUY (75 POINTS)

You have 75 points to spend on your nine attributes. You may distribute the points as you wish, subject to the following rules.

TOTAL POINTS	You must spend exactly 75 points.
COST	Each point in an attribute costs 1 point.
LOW VALUES	An attribute can be purchased at 4 or less only with GM approval.

This method allows you to shape your character deliberately, focusing on the abilities that suit your concept, background and intended role in the coterie.

POINT BUY EXAMPLE

A player spends their 75 points as follows:

END 8	STR 10	AGI 8	INT 7	EDU 8
INIT 8	CHA 9	WILL 9	ESS 8

Total: 75 points.
Values of 4 or less require GM approval.

METHOD 2: ROLLING (2D6)

Roll nine scores, then assign them to your attributes. Follow these steps:

1	Roll 2d6 nine times, to generate nine scores.
2	Reroll any result of 4 or less.
3	All nine scores will therefore be 5 or higher.
4	After you have nine scores, if none of them is 12, change the lowest score to 12.
5	Assign the nine scores to your attributes however you like.

This method gives you a more random character, which can be a good fit for a grittier or more unpredictable campaign.

ROLLING EXAMPLE

A player rolls nine scores (rerolling any 4 or less):

12 10 9 7 6 6 5 5 5

At least one score is 12, so no change is needed.
The player then assigns the scores to their attributes, for example:

END 9	STR 12	AGI 6	INT 7	EDU 10
INIT 5	CHA 5	WILL 6	ESS 5

The same scores could be assigned differently. It's up to the player.

MASTERIES

Once a character reaches Level 3, most skills can be developed into Masteries. Mastery tests have a base success target of 6+ rather than the standard 8+.
See the Masteries section for full details.

SKILLS & LEVELS

Skills represent what your character knows and can do. You improve a skill by purchasing levels with Experience Points (XP). Your effective ability with a skill is its Level, which is used when the rules call for a skill test.

SKILL BASICS

SKILL	A learned ability, such as Pistols, Melee, First-Aid or Stealth.
SKILL LEVEL	The permanent level you have purchased in a skill. Levels range from 0 to 4.
UNTRAINED	If you have not purchased any level in a skill, you are untrained. You take a –3 penalty when making a test with this skill and cannot add an Attribute modifier.
LEVEL 0	When you purchase Level 0 in a skill, you are trained. The –3 penalty is removed and you may add the relevant Attribute modifier to your test.

PURCHASING SKILL LEVELS

The XP cost to purchase each Skill Level is fixed.

SKILL LEVEL	0	1	2	3	4
XP COST	100 XP	100 XP	200 XP	300 XP	400 XP

YOU MUST PURCHASE LEVELS IN ORDER

- You must purchase level 0 before you can purchase level 1, and so on.
- You cannot skip levels.
- You cannot purchase a skill above your character level, except where a specific career specialisation permits it.

SKILL TESTS

To make a skill test, roll 2d6 and add:

- Your skill level
- The relevant Attribute modifier
- Any other modifiers (equipment, circumstances, etc.).

Compare the total to the target number set by the situation (6+, 8+, 10+ or 12+). If you are untrained in the skill, you take a –3 penalty and cannot add the Attribute modifier.

PURCHASING SKILLS & OTHER PROFICIENCIES (OPRs)

ON YOUR CAREER CARD

You may purchase levels in any skill listed on your current career card, up to the level printed on the card and not higher than your character level (unless it is the designated specialisation for that career level).

Cost: standard XP cost.

COMMON SKILLS (OFF CARD)

Common Skills can always be purchased, even if they are not listed on your career card.

Maximum level: your character level.

Cost: ×2 the standard XP cost (for each level purchased).

SPECIALIST SKILLS (REQUIRES ACCESS)

Specialist Skills are not freely available. You must first gain access to the skill through a career, a hobby, or another specific source.

On your career card: use the standard XP cost, up to the printed level.

Accessed off-card: costs ×3 the standard XP cost, normally up to your character level.

OTHER PROFICIENCIES (OPRs)

Other Proficiencies (OPRs) represent additional capabilities such as languages, tool use, or other narrow areas of knowledge.

They are purchased separately from skills and follow their own rules, described on the OPRs page.

EXAMPLE: COMMON SKILL (STEALTH)

A level 4 character has Stealth 2 on their career card. They want to take Stealth to level 4.

Purchase	Level gained	XP cost	Total XP	Notes
Level 0	0	100	100	On card (standard cost).
Level 1	1	100	200	On card (standard cost).
Level 2	2	200	400	On card (standard cost).
Level 3	3	600	1,000	Beyond card level (× 2 standard).
Level 4	4	800	1,800	Beyond card level (× 2 standard).

EXAMPLE: SPECIALIST SKILL (SCANLOC)

A level 3 character has Scanloc 1 on their career card. They want to take Scanloc to level 3.

Purchase	Level gained	XP cost	Total XP	Notes
Level 0	0	100	100	On card (standard cost).
Level 1	1	100	200	On card (standard cost).
Level 2	2	600	800	Beyond card level (× 3 standard).
Level 3	3	900	1,700	Beyond card level (× 3 standard).

EXCEPTION: CAREER SPECIALISATION

Each level 1 to 3 career has one designated skill or attribute that can be purchased to a higher level than normally allowed for that career. This is a specific exception for that career only. For example, the level 1 hired gun has Pistols 2. Level 4 careers do not have this exception.

PEOPLE SEE WHAT THEY EXPECT.

COMMON SKILLS

EVERYDAY ABILITIES. EXTRAORDINARY CIRCUMSTANCES.

Common Skills represent the everyday abilities and practical training that most people can learn. They are available to all characters and can be advanced up to your current character level. SOME SKILLS OPEN DOORS. OTHERS KEEP YOU ALIVE.

OTHER PROFICIENCIES (OPRs) 07

Other Proficiencies (OPRs) represent broad areas of knowledge, training or experience that sit outside the normal Common and Specialist Skill lists. They cover the sort of useful background knowledge, side skills and personal connections that characters pick up through life, rather than through their main Career.

PURCHASING AN OPR

100 XP = SKILL LEVEL 2

When you purchase an OPR, choose one of the categories below and define the specific subject. That subject becomes your OPR at Skill Level 2.

OPR CATEGORIES

Choose one category and define a specific subject. The examples given are illustrative only — you can choose any appropriate subject within the category.

01	ART	Creative disciplines, performance and artistic practice. Examples: Acting, Music, Painting, Sculpture, Writing.	ATTRIBUTE CHA
02	HISTORY	Knowledge of historical periods, cultures, movements or events. Examples: Ancient Civilisations, Modern History, Local History, Political Movements.	ATTRIBUTE EDU
03	KNOWLEDGE	Familiarity with places, systems, organisations or specific subjects. Examples: Aztlan, Corporate Structures, Organised Crime, Religious Movements, Urban Geography.	ATTRIBUTE EDU
04	LANGUAGE	A specific spoken, written or signed language. Examples: Arabic, Mandarin, Spanish, Japanese, ASL.	ATTRIBUTE EDU
05	SCIENCE	Knowledge of a scientific field or technical discipline. Examples: Biology, Chemistry, Physics, Psychology, Neuroscience, Cybernetics, Forensics.	ATTRIBUTE INT
06	TRANSPORT	Familiarity with a type of vehicle, vessel or transport system. Examples: Drive, Ride, Pilot, Sail, Heavy Vehicle, Watercraft, Rail Systems, Spacecraft.	ATTRIBUTE AGI
07	CONTACTS	Access to and familiarity with a type of person or network. Examples: Criminal, Government, Corporate, Academic, Channeler, Legal, Military.	SPECIAL RULE Contacts use the Contacts rules rather than a normal Attribute-based Skill test.

FURTHER INFORMATION

OPRs may be gained from Backgrounds, Hobbies and Careers. They may also be purchased directly with 100 XP where allowed.

From Skill Level 3+, an OPR may qualify for a normal Mastery using the standard Mastery rules (300 XP). OPR Masteries follow the same rules as other Skill Masteries and count towards your maximum of three Masteries in total (normal and Signature combined).

IMPORTANT NOTES

- An OPR is always a single, specific subject defined by the player.
- OPRs are broad fields, not a fixed list of skills.
- OPR Masteries follow the normal Mastery rules.
- If you abandon an OPR Mastery, there is no refund. Reacquiring it costs the full 300 XP.

CONTACTS

PEOPLE. FAVOURS. INFLUENCE.

DOC: OPR-02
TECHNICAL & SOCIAL

Your Contacts are people you know who can help, hinder, or point you in the right direction. They provide information, access, resources, and influence.
A Contact is defined by three qualities: relationship, obligation, and influence.

2D6	RELATIONSHIP How they feel about you.	OBLIGATION What they currently owe you.	INFLUENCE How much they can do.
2	Dislikes you	Small favour	Small
3	Neutral	Favour	Small
4	Friendly	Big favour	Small
5	Dislikes you	Small favour	Moderate
6	Neutral	Favour	Moderate
7	Friendly	Big favour	Moderate
8	Dislikes you	Small favour	Significant
9	Neutral	Favour	Significant
10	Friendly	Big favour	Significant
11	Dislikes you	Favour	Extreme
12	Neutral	Favour	Extreme

GAINING CONTACTS

Contacts can be obtained in several ways:

- Contact OPR — Spend 100 XP to create a Contact within a chosen category.
- Careers — Many careers provide one or more Contacts as part of their package.
- Backgrounds/Hobbies — Some packages grant a Contact.

CONTACT QUALITIES

RELATIONSHIP	How the Contact feels about you: Dislikes you, Neutral, or Friendly. This affects how willing they are to help and how they react to your requests.
OBLIGATION	What they currently owe you: Small favour, Favour, or Big favour. This represents the help they are prepared to give right now.
INFLUENCE	How much they can do: Small, Moderate, Significant, or Extreme. This determines the scale of assistance they can provide: information, access, resources, or introductions.

CONTACT CATEGORIES (EXAMPLES)

CRIMINAL	Fence, Fixer, Smuggler, Gang Leader, Street Doctor.
LEGAL	Lawyer, Paralegal, Judge, Legal Clerk, Notary.
GOVERNMENT	Politician, Civil Servant, Bureaucrat, Diplomat, Union Official.
CORPORATE	Executive, Manager, Researcher, Security Chief, Procurement.
LEO	Police Officer, Detective, Internal Affairs, Borderguard, Marshal.
MILITARY	Soldier, Operator, Intelligence Officer, Logistics, Arms Dealer.
CHANNELER	Ritualist, Guide, Angaros, Specialist, Hermetic, Shaman, Voodoo, Psychic, Wiccan.
ACADEMIC	Professor, Researcher, Archivist, Librarian, Historian, Think Tank.
INFORMANT	Insider, Whistleblower, Journalist, Analyst, Local Knowledge.

USING CONTACTS

- A Contact represents a specific person, not a general network.
- Contacts may be gained from Backgrounds, Hobbies, Careers, or by purchasing a Contact OPR (100 XP).
- When you create a Contact (via an OPR, Career, Background, or similar), roll 2D6 on the table to determine its relationship, obligation, and influence.
- You can then call on that Contact to ask for help: information, resources, an introduction, or other assistance.
- Unless the Contact is Friendly, they will usually help only once to repay the current obligation.
- After the favour is fulfilled, the obligation is considered spent. A new favour requires a new obligation or leverage.
- Contacts have their own limits, loyalties, and agendas.

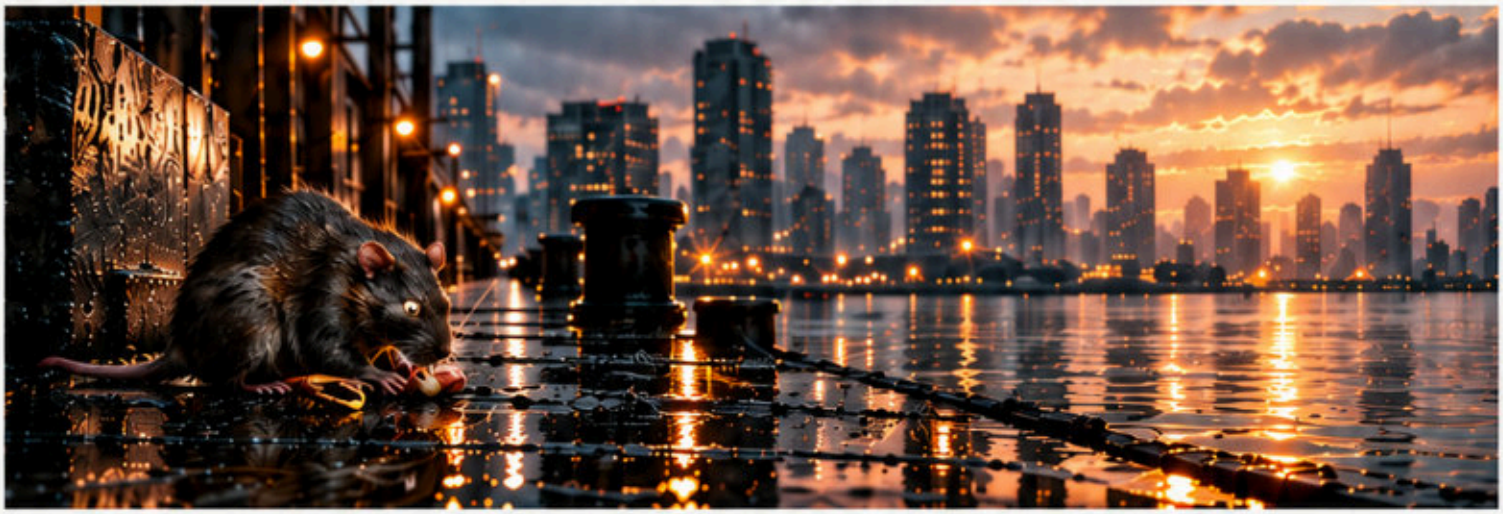
OBLIGATION GUIDE

SMALL FAVOUR	A minor help that takes little effort. A quick question, simple task, or small item.
FAVOUR	A help that requires time, effort, or some risk. Worth remembering —and repaying.
BIG FAVOUR	A major help, requiring significant risk, resources, or pulling serious strings. Never forgotten — harder to repay.

INFLUENCE GUIDE

SMALL	Limited reach and resources. Local or minor circles.
MODERATE	Noticeable reach and resources. Regional or specialist circles.
SIGNIFICANT	Wide reach and resources. Powerful networks.
EXTREME	Exceptional reach and resources. Major power players.

MASTERIES



01 SKILL MASTERIES (NORMAL)

Cost: 300 XP • Available: When you reach Level 3

A Skill Mastery represents exceptional command of a field. Every Skill Mastery gives you exactly four Skills: the Skill being Mastered, Focus, Discipline, and two logically applicable Common Skills listed for that Mastery.

MASTERY SKILL LEVEL

Your Mastery Skill Level is the lowest Skill Level of the four Skills after all modifiers have been applied.

Example:
Melee (4), Athletics (3), Focus (2), Discipline (3)
→ Mastery Skill Level 2.

02 SIGNATURE MASTERIES

Cost: 300 XP • Available: When you complete a Career Card

Every Career has one unique Signature Mastery that defines the pinnacle of that path.

PROCESS

Complete your Career and all required advancements for that Career. Your Career is now complete and your Signature Mastery becomes available for purchase at a cost of 300 XP.

Signature Masteries are unique. You can never have more than one unique Signature Mastery of the same name.

03 ATTRIBUTE FOR A SKILL MASTERY

When you purchase a Skill Mastery, you permanently choose which one of the four Skills provides the Attribute modifier for all tests using that Mastery. This choice cannot be changed.

Example:
If you choose Athletics (AGI) as the Attribute for Melee Mastery, your Melee Mastery tests use Agi as the Attribute modifier.

04 THE RULE OF THREE

You can have a maximum of three Masteries in total, including both Skill Masteries and Signature Masteries.

EXAMPLES

You may have three Skill Masteries.
You may have three Signature Masteries.
You may have one Skill Mastery and two Signature Masteries.
You may have two Skill Masteries and one Signature Mastery.
Never more than three.

05 EXAMPLE: ADMINISTRATION MASTERY

The four Skills required for Administration Mastery are Administration (Skill being Mastered), Focus (WILL), Discipline (WILL), Bureaucracy (logically applicable Common Skill).

EXAMPLE SKILL LEVELS

Administration 3, Focus 2, Discipline 2, Bureaucracy 4
→ Mastery Skill Level 2.

06 ABANDONING A MASTERY

You may abandon a Mastery at any time for any reason. There is no refund. If you wish to regain that Mastery later, you must pay the full cost again (300 XP).

HOBBIES

PEOPLE. PLACES. OTHER THINGS.

Hobbies represent training, interests and pastimes outside your career. They give you access to Specialist skills through a non-career route and help define who your character is beyond the job.

HOBBY RULES

- You can take one Hobby per career (maximum).
- A Hobby package gives you four listed skills at Level 0 for 300 XP.
- You purchase the package regardless of your current levels. There is no discount if you already have some of the skills.
- After taking a Hobby, you can advance the skills normally (subject to Common/Specialist availability and the usual double/triple cost if not on your career card).

CAREERS

WHO YOU ARE IN THE WORLD

CAREERS

HOW THEY WORK

Your career. Your skills. Your place in the world.

STARTING YOUR CAREER

1 CHOOSE A CAREER GROUP

Choose the Career Group that best fits the kind of life your character has led, or the one they want to live.

ARMSMEN | INTELLECTUALS
CRIMINALS | CIVILIANS

2 CHOOSE OR ROLL A STARTING CAREER

Either choose a Level 1 Career from your chosen group, or roll randomly within that group if you want chance to decide your starting Career.

Use the Level 1 Career list for that group to see the options.

3 TAKE YOUR STARTING RESOURCES

You begin character creation with:

- 1,000 XP
- €10,000 Crowns

If you have already spent XP on a Background and/or a Hobby, subtract those costs from the 1,000 XP. You then spend the XP you have remaining on your Career advances.

4 BUY YOUR CAREER ADVANCES

Spend your remaining XP on the Attribute advances, Common Skills, Specialist Skills and Other Proficiencies (OPRs) available through your Career, following the normal advancement costs.

5 BUY YOUR EQUIPMENT

Spend your starting Crowns on equipment. Purchase anything required or recommended by your Career, and any other gear you need to begin play.

6 RECORD YOUR CAREER

Add your Career to your character sheet and note its Income, Paths and Laterals. When you later complete this Career, you may purchase one eligible Signature Mastery for 300 XP from the appropriate group and level selection page.

SIGNATURE MASTERIES

Signature Masteries are not listed on individual Career Cards.
Each Career group and level has a shared Signature Mastery selection page at the end of that section.
After completing a Career, you may purchase one eligible Signature Mastery for 300 XP from that selection.

WHAT'S ON A CAREER CARD?

Every Career card contains the same key information. Here's what each section means.

1. ATTRIBUTES — Attribute advances available through this Career.
2. COMMON SKILLS — Common Skills and required levels available through this Career.
3. SPECIALIST SKILLS — Specialist Skills this Career provides access to.
4. OPRS (OTHER PROFICIENCIES) — Other Proficiencies available through this Career.
5. EQUIPMENT — Equipment supplied, required, or associated with this Career.
6. DESCRIPTION — What this Career represents in the world.
7. INCOME — The Career's normal income level.
8. PATHS — Careers you can advance into (progression).
9. LATERALS — Other Careers you can move into (alternative directions).

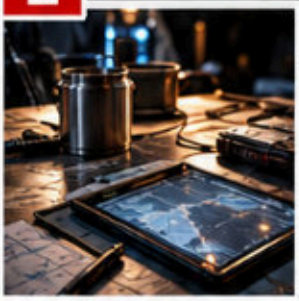
CAREERS
HOW THEY WORK

Play the game. Earn XP. Build your career. Master your path. Become a legend.

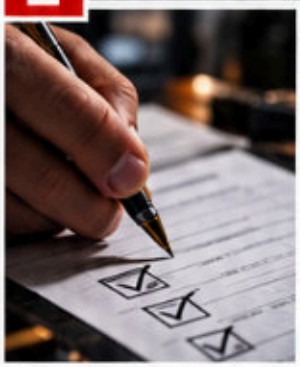
1 EARNING & SPENDING XP



You earn XP through play — completing jobs, achieving goals, good roleplay, defeating enemies and other accomplishments at the GM's discretion.

Spend XP on the advances offered by your current Career: Attribute advances, Common Skills, Specialist Skills and OPRs, following the normal purchasing rules.

2 COMPLETING A CAREER



A Career is complete when you have purchased all required advances:

- All Attribute advances listed as required
- All Common Skills and required levels
- All Specialist Skills and required levels
- All OPRs (Other Proficiencies)
- All required equipment
- Any other advances explicitly marked as required on the Career card

Masteries are optional, and do not count toward completing a Career.

3 CAREER ADVANCEMENT EXAMPLE

This example shows how a character advances through Careers using Paths and Laterals.

Raven begins as a Level 1 Runner. During play, Raven earns XP and spends it on Skills, Attributes and other required advances. Once all required advances and equipment have been purchased, Raven has completed the Career and gains access to its Signature Mastery selection (see page 30).

FOLLOWING A PATH

Raven can now spend 100 XP to follow a listed Path into a more advanced Career, such as Courier, gaining access to new skills and opportunities.

TAKING A LATERAL

Alternatively, Raven could spend 100 XP to enter a listed Lateral Career within the same Career Group, even without completing the current Career. A listed Lateral in a different Career Group costs 200 XP.

MASTERIES

Signature Masteries are optional purchases, not automatic rewards. Completing a Career makes Raven eligible to purchase one.

The important distinction: Paths require Career completion. Laterals allow a character to change direction at any time.

4 MOVING ON – ADVANCE OR CHANGE DIRECTION

You do not have to complete a Career before leaving it. However, if you leave early, you do not gain access to that Career's Signature Mastery selection.

WHERE YOU'RE GOING	WHEN AVAILABLE	COST	NOTES
Listed Path (advance in your profession)	Only after you complete your current Career	100 XP	Follows the Career's listed Path.
Listed Lateral in Same Group (change direction within your group)	Any time (No completion required.)	100 XP	A different Career in the same level within your current group.
Any Level 1 Career (start a new path)	Any time (No completion required.)	100 XP	You may start from the bottom again in any Career group.
Listed Lateral in Different Group (change to a different group)	Any time (No completion required.)	200 XP	A Career at the same level in a different group.

5 PATHS vs LATERALS

PATHS (PROGRESSION)

Paths are the natural next step in your profession. They represent greater expertise, broader capabilities and new opportunities.

You must complete your current Career to take a listed Path.

LATERALS (ALTERNATIVE DIRECTIONS)

Laterals let you move sideways into a different area, rather than upward. They allow you to explore new skills and experiences.

You may take a listed Lateral at any time, even before completing your current Career.

GOOD TO KNOW

- You may remain in a Career you've started, continuing to purchase advances over time.
- You may take advances from multiple Careers.
- Masteries are optional and do not count toward Career completion.
- If you leave a Career before completing it, you do not gain access to that Career's Signature Mastery selection.
- All unpurchased costs are a one-time XP cost when taking the new Career.

6 HOW IT FLOWS

PLAY THE GAME
Take jobs. Survive. Achieve your goals. Make your mark.

EARN XP
The GM awards XP for accomplishments, goals and roleplay.

BUILD YOUR CAREER
Spend XP on Attributes, Common Skills, Specialist Skills, OPRs and equipment.

MASTER (OPTIONAL)
Purchase Masteries to enhance your capabilities.

MOVE ON
Advances, change direction or start again. Your story continues.

SIGNATURE MASTERIES

ARMSMEN LEVEL 1

Upon completing any Armsman Level 1 Career, you may choose one Signature Mastery from the list below.
A Warden may possess no more than three Masteries in total, including both Signature Masteries and Skill Masteries.

ADRENALINE SURGE

Once per scene, when you would be Incapacitated, you may instead remain conscious with 1 Health. You still suffer any other effects as normal.

DEAD EYE

When using a rifle, you may re-roll one failed attack roll per round. You must use the second result.

HOLD THE LINE

When you take a defensive action, you and all allies in cover with you gain +1 to Defence until the start of your next turn.

IRON JAW

You may ignore the effects of one Stun result per scene. You still suffer any damage or other effects from the attack.

LEAVE NO ONE BEHIND

You gain a +2 bonus to First-Aid tests made to stabilize a dying character. Once per scene, you may move a dying ally up to your movement rate without provoking attacks.

QUICK DRAW

You may draw a prepared pistol or melee weapon as a free action once per round. The first attack you make with that weapon this turn gains +1 to hit.

SUPPRESSING FIRE

Whenever you make a ranged attack, hit or miss, you may add Stun to the shot and the target counts as Suppressed until the start of your next turn.

TACTICAL AWARENESS

Gain +2 to Observe tests. When you successfully identify a threat, you may immediately move up to half your movement as a free action.

BULWARK

When an ally within 5 metres would be hit by an attack, you may use your reaction to move into the line of fire. Resolve the attack against you instead.

LAST MAN STANDING

When all other conscious allies within 10 metres are Incapacitated or dead, you gain +2 to all attack and defence rolls until the end of the scene.

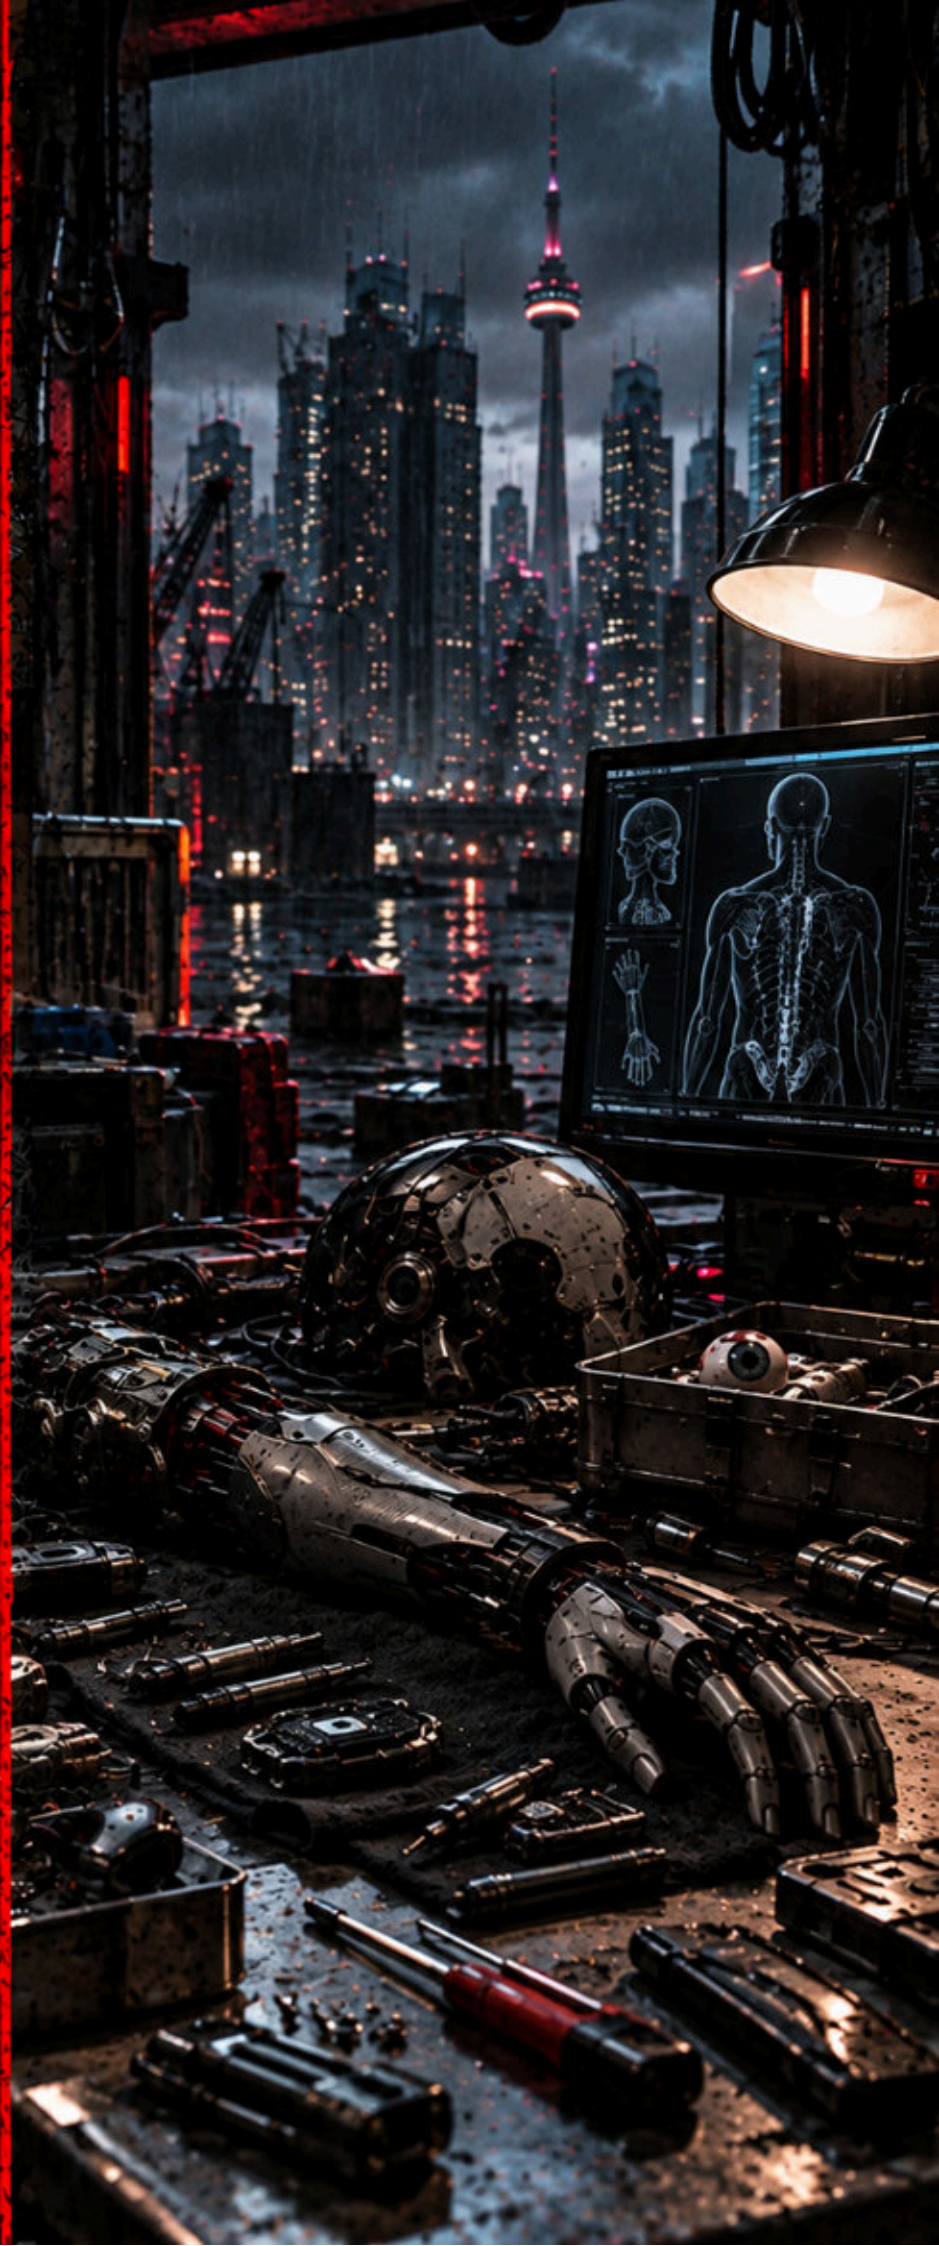
CYBERWARE AND AUGMENTATION



CYBERWARE

A BETTER YOU

Cyberware extends what you are. It makes you stronger, tougher, faster, keener. It can give you new senses, new capabilities, a new face. In the right hands, it's a tool. In the wrong place, it's a chain.

On Threshold, Chrome is everywhere — in the boardroom, the barracks and the back alleys. Most of it is designed to look, feel and function like natural human anatomy. You can be heavily augmented and still pass for unmodified. Only Military Chrome is openly mechanical, built for war rather than appearance.

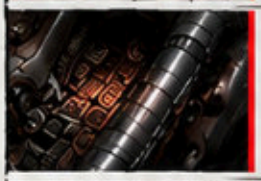
Whether you get Chrome to survive, to compete or to become something else entirely, remember: there's no such thing as a free upgrade.

TYPES OF CHROME

REPLIKAS

REPLACE WHAT'S LOST

Replikas restore normal human function. They replace missing or damaged body parts and are designed to look and work like the original. Replikas do not accept augmentations or enhancements.



CYBERNETICS

MORE THAN HUMAN

Cybernetics go beyond replacement. They Improve on natural human capability or add new functions. Cybernetics can accept compatible enhancements, as specified in their description.

MILITARY CHROME

BUILT FOR WAR

Military Chrome is openly mechanical and not designed to resemble human anatomy. It delivers maximum performance at the cost of discretion. Military Chrome can accept compatible enhancements, as specified in their description.

GENERAL RULES

01 Replikas do not accept augmentations or enhancements.
02 Cybernetics and Military Chrome can accept compatible enhancements, as specified in their descriptions.
03 Identical bonuses from multiple sources do not stack unless specifically stated otherwise.
04 No cyberware provides an Agility bonus.
05 Quality affects Price and Essence only, never performance.
06 Essence rounds to the nearest 0.05. Price rounds to the nearest ¢100.

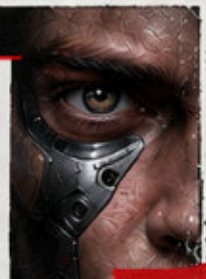
VISIBLE CHROME

Outside the military and veteran community, obvious Chrome makes people uncomfortable. Visible cyberware carries much the same social stigma as extreme facial tattooing once did: legal, but difficult to ignore.

Most civilian Chrome is designed to look, feel and move like natural human anatomy. Someone who deliberately displays mechanical augmentation may find strangers wary, employers reluctant and authorities more attentive.

Veteran Chrome is different. Military cyberware is recognised as something earned in service, and its visible construction carries very different social expectations.



REPLIKAS

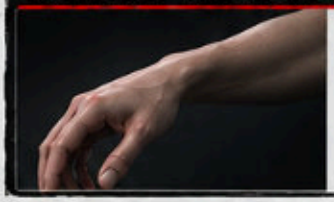
RESTORE. REPLACE. KEEP MOVING.

Replikas replace lost or damaged body parts with advanced mechanical or biotechnological equivalents. Designed to be indistinguishable from natural human anatomy, a Replika restores normal function and allows you to continue living, working and fighting without drawing unnecessary attention.

Replikas are replacements, nothing more. They do not enhance normal human capability and cannot accept augmentations or enhancements.

NUARM — ARM REPLACEMENT

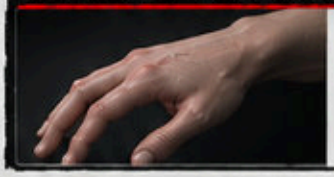
¢ 8,000 | ESS 1.00



The NuArm replicates a human arm in form, strength and movement, restoring full normal function.

NUHAND — HAND REPLACEMENT

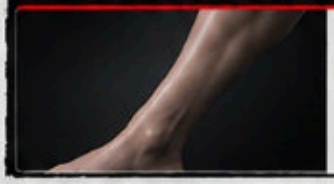
¢ 3,000 | ESS 0.30



The NuHand replicates a human hand, restoring normal dexterity and fine motor control.

NULEG — LEG REPLACEMENT

¢ 9,000 | ESS 1.00



The NuLeg replicates a human leg, restoring normal movement, balance and endurance.

NUFOOT — FOOT REPLACEMENT

¢ 3,000 | ESS 0.30

The NuFoot replicates a human foot, restoring normal movement, balance and grip.

INSTALLATION & RECOVERY

Installation of a Replika requires a qualified surgeon and appropriate facilities. Most procedures take several hours and a period of recovery afterwards.

Recovery time depends on the complexity of the replacement and the character's overall health. During recovery, the character is usually limited in physical activity and may suffer penalties at the GM's discretion. Full benefits are only gained once recovery is complete.

REPLACEMENT & MAINTENANCE

Replikas are durable but not indestructible. Severe damage may require repair or full replacement by a qualified technician. Replacement costs are typically a significant fraction of the original price.

Regular maintenance is recommended to avoid unexpected failure, especially after serious trauma, exposure to extreme environments or heavy use. Neglecting maintenance increases the risk of malfunction at the GM's discretion.

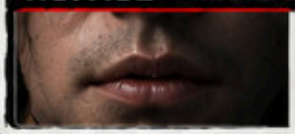
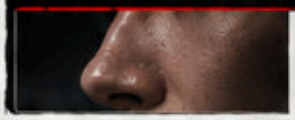
The NuEar replicates a human ear, restoring normal hearing.

NUFACE — FACE REPLACEMENT — ¢ 6,000 — ESS 0.50



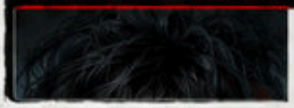
The NuFace replicates a human face, restoring original appearance. Designed to be indistinguishable from the original.

NUNOSE — NOSE REPLACEMENT — ¢ 2,000 — ESS 0.15



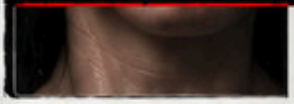
The NuNose replicates a human nose, restoring normal function and appearance.

NUHAIR — HAIR REPLACEMENT — ¢ 2,500 — ESS 0.10



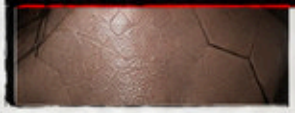
The NuHair replicates scalp and/or facial hair, restoring normal appearance and growth.

NUVOICE BOX — VOICE REPLACEMENT — ¢ 3,500 — ESS 0.20



The NuVoice Box replicates a human voice, restoring normal speech.

NUSKIN — SYNTHETIC SKIN — ¢ 12,000 — ESS 0.75



NuSkin is a whole-body synthetic skin. It is visually and tactually indistinguishable from natural human skin.

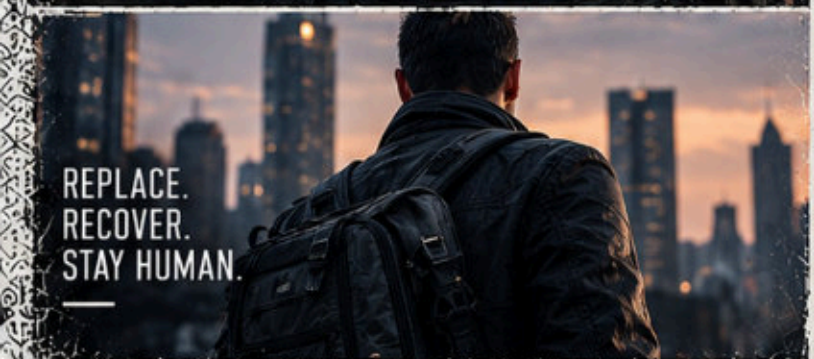
REPLIKAS
INTERNAL SYSTEMS



NuSpine — ₵ 5,000 — ESS 0.40

Complete synthetic spinal column. Restores full structural support and nervous system function after catastrophic injury or degeneration. Engineered for maximum biocompatibility and long-term reliability.

NuChest — ₵ 6,000 — ESS 0.50

Synthetic ribcage and sternum. Protects vital organs and maintains thoracic structure. Ideal for traumatic reconstruction and severe structural damage.

NuHeart — ₵ 4,000 — ESS 0.30

Synthetic heart unit. Restores normal cardiac function with high reliability and long service life.

NuLung — ₵ 4,000 — ESS 0.30

Synthetic lung unit. Restores normal respiratory function and oxygen processing.

NuStomach — ₵ 3,000 — ESS 0.20

Synthetic stomach unit. Restores normal digestive function.

NuOrgans — ₵ 3,000 — ESS 0.20

Synthetic organ modules (liver, kidneys, spleen, etc.). Restores normal internal function after failure or trauma. Individual organs available.

ALL INTERNAL REPLIKAS ARE INVISIBLE WHEN INSTALLED AND INDISTINGUISHABLE FROM NATURAL ANATOMY.

MUSCLE REPLACEMENT

TYPE	EFFECT	PRICE	ESS	REQUIREMENTS
Innocuous	+2 STR, +2 END	₵ 24,000	1.00	None
Athletic	+4 STR, +4 END	₵ 30,000	1.25	None
Bulky	+6 STR, +6 END	₵ 36,000	1.50	None

Synthetic muscle bundles replace natural muscle tissue, greatly increasing physical strength, endurance and resistance to fatigue. Can be installed in specific groups (arms, legs, torso) or as a full-body system.

SPINAL LACING

TYPE	EFFECT	PRICE	ESS	REQUIREMENTS
Plastic	+1 END	₵ 8,000	0.40	None
Carbon	+2 END	₵ 14,000	0.60	None
Titanium	+3 END	₵ 24,000	0.80	None

Reinforced spinal support fused to the vertebrae. Increases load-bearing capacity, resistance to injury and overall physical resilience. Essential for heavy augmentation and high-stress operational environments.

DERMAL PACKING

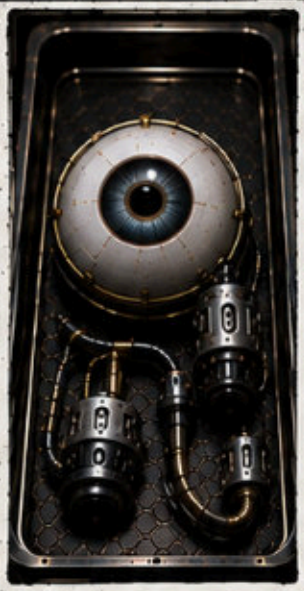
TYPE	EFFECT	PRICE	ESS	REQUIREMENTS
I	+2 AV	₵ 10,000	0.50	None
II	+4 AV	₵ 16,000	0.70	Athletic Muscle Replacement
III	+6 AV	₵ 24,000	0.90	Bulky Muscle Replacement

Subdermal armour plating bonded beneath the skin. Provides increased protection against physical trauma while maintaining a natural appearance. Replaces Natural Toughness (does not stack). Worn armour does stack with Dermal Packing.

AUGX

TYPE	EFFECT	PRICE	ESS	REQUIREMENTS
I	+1 Initiative	₵ 12,000	1.00	None
II	+2 Initiative	₵ 24,000	2.00	None
III	+3 Initiative	₵ 40,000	3.00	None

Advanced neural augmentation system. Enhances neural processing and reflex response, allowing faster reaction times and greater situational awareness. AUGX is a major commitment and often reserved for elite operatives.



NuEye (EYE REPLACEMENT)

A fully synthetic eye. Restores normal vision and provides enhancement capability. Externally indistinguishable from a natural eye with NuFlesh covering.

MILITARY CHROME

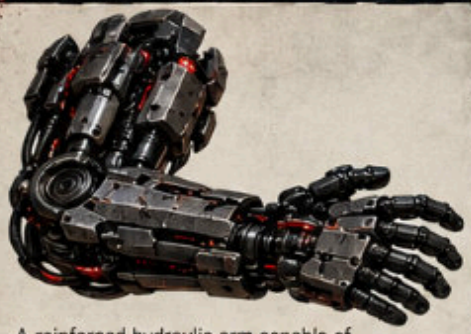
BUILT TO ENDURE. DESIGNED TO KILL.

Military Chrome is not a refinement of civilian Chrome. It is heavier, stronger and brutally overbuilt. Designed for a very small number of specialist military operators, it is a weapons system, not a lifestyle choice.

Ordinary soldiers do not receive Military Chrome. Acquisition, possession or installation outside authorised military channels is illegal and carries severe penalties.

IF YOU ARE NOT A VETERAN, YOU ARE A CRIMINAL.

MILITARY ARM — 350,000 CR



A reinforced hydraulic arm capable of enormous force. Designed for battlefield use, not subtlety.

- STR +1 to +6 (without Military Torso).
- If attached to a Military Torso, the arm may provide up to +9 STR.
- Two Military Arms do not stack their STR bonuses (use the higher value).
- May be used to Block as a Small Shield.

"SOME PROBLEMS REQUIRE A STRONGER HAND."

MILITARY LEGS — 600,000 CR (PAIR)

Armored hydraulic legs built for rapid deployment and extreme terrain.

- Movement may be increased by up to +3, but Military Legs cannot exceed the normal cybernetic Movement limit.
- Retractable wheels descend from the feet, allowing movement at vehicle speeds on suitable surfaces.
- Each calf houses 3 rocket boosters, allowing jumps of approximately 10 stories vertically (3 uses per leg pair).
- Boosters must be reloaded after use.

"TERRAIN IS A SUGGESTION."

MILITARY TORSO — 750,000 CR

The heart of Military Chrome. A fully reinforced combat chassis with integrated systems.

- Built-in AUGX Level 3 (included).
- +30 to END.
- Provides up to +9 STR.
- Allows attached Military Arms to operate at +9 STR, for a maximum combined STR bonus of +18.
- Full set of Combat Organs (integrated).
- Ignores all Light and Medium Stun effects (Heavy Stun still applies).
- Advanced Smart Weapons: +2 to Aim at 0 AP (smart weapons only).
- +2 to Initiative (mod).

"THIS ISN'T A CHEST. IT'S A COMMAND PLATFORM."

MILITARY SKULL — 400,000 CR

A complete armored replacement for the skull, jaw and supporting structures. Designed for maximum protection and battlefield awareness.

- Full-spectrum sight (IR, UV, thermal, low-light and image enhancement).
- Full-spectrum sound (directional, sonar and filtered modes).
- Integrated communications suite.
- No separate implants required.

"SEE EVERYTHING. HEAR EVERYTHING. MISS NOTHING."

FULL CONVERSION — 3,500,000+ CR

A complete military body replaces the body's principal structural components with an armored combat chassis. Includes Military Arms, Legs, Torso, Skull and all integrated systems.

- Maximum STR +18.
- +30 END.
- Inherent AV 16 (no additional armor).
- Built-in AUGX Level 3.
- Full set of Combat Organs.
- Full-spectrum sight, sound and comms.
- Vehicle-speed movement and vertical jump capability.
- Ignores all Light and Medium Stun effects.
- Advanced Smart Weapons +2 Aim (0 AP).
- +2 Initiative (mod).
- Extremely rare. Even among Veterans.

"THERE IS NO LIMIT. ONLY PROCUREMENT."

MILITARY ARMOUR PACKAGES

LIGHT MILITARY ARMOUR — 400,000 CR

AV 20

- Reinforced composite plating.
- Fitted directly to the chassis.
- Reduces mobility slightly.
- Standard issue for specialist operators.

HEAVY MILITARY ARMOUR — 800,000 CR

AV 24

- Maximum protection.
- Fitted directly to the chassis.
- Significant additional mass.
- Designed for high-threat environments.

A FINAL WORD

Military Chrome is built for wars you will never see and missions you will never be told about. If you can buy it, you're already in too deep.

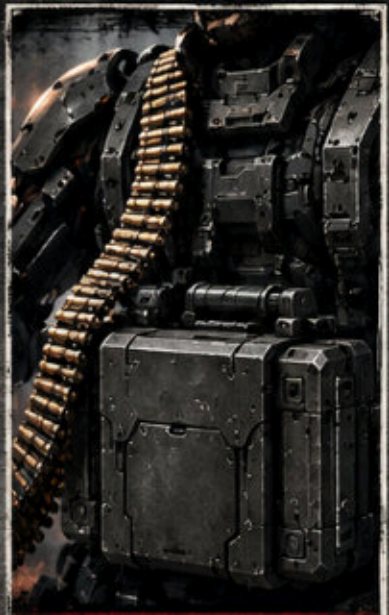
"SOME FIGHT WARS. A VERY FEW BECOME THEM."

MILITARY CHROME
INTEGRATED WEAPON SYSTEMS

L.M.G.
LIGHT MACHINE GUN

DAMAGE	6D6
ARMOUR PIERCING	AP 6
RANGE	15 / 250
AMMO	100

Integrated light machine gun, mounted to the arm and fed via an armoured ammunition line from the Military Torso. Provides sustained suppressive fire with high penetration capability.



AMMUNITION FEED

FED FROM MILITARY TORSO 100-ROUND BOX.

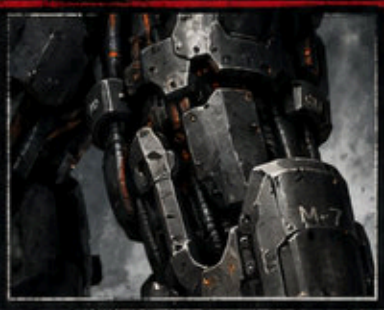
GRENADE LAUNCHER
(FRAG)

DAMAGE (FRAG)	6D6
BLAST RADIUS	2.5 METRES
RANGE	15 / 250
AMMO	6
ARMOUR PIERCING	— (NONE)

Integrated six-shot grenade launcher. Fires fragmentation rounds. Launcher statistics vary according to ammunition type.

OPERATIONAL NOTES

- One integrated weapon mount per arm (Military Chrome).
- LMG fed via torso-mounted 100-round ammunition box.
- Grenade launcher ammunition types include Frag, Smoke, Incendiary and Speciality (see Ammunition, p.XX).
- Weapons are permanently integrated and cannot be easily removed without specialist facilities.



TACTICAL ROLE

- Sustained fire support.
- Area denial and crowd control.
- Designed for military and veteran operations in high-threat environments.
- Integrated systems reduce reload time and improve combat efficiency.
- Devastating in the right hands.

LAKEVIEW:
BECOMING A WARDEN
LAKEVIEW

LOCATIONS

LAKEVIEW

SECURE PSYCHIATRIC HOSPITAL

BONE ISLAND, ONTARIO

Specialist care for those who cross the Veil and cannot immediately return to the world they knew.

1 OVERVIEW

Lakeview is a high-security psychiatric hospital located on Bone Island in Georgian Bay, Ontario. It provides long-term care for individuals who suffer severe and persistent psychological trauma following a full crossing of the Veil.

Officially, Lakeview is a specialist mental health facility under the Canadian healthcare system. In reality, it is one of the Union's most important and closely guarded institutions, designed to contain, stabilise and, when possible, rehabilitate those who have been exposed to realities they were never meant to see.

A place of protection.
A place of recovery.
A place where the truth comes later.

2 HOW OFTEN DOES IT HAPPEN?

In a city of 10 million people, about 100 individuals per year fully cross the Veil — a catastrophic break from ordinary reality. Most occur through trauma, extreme supernatural exposure or certain ritual events. The majority never recover.

3 ANNUAL NUMBERS (CITY OF 10 MILLION)

100
Threshold crossings
(per year)

~450
Firearm homicides
(per year)

~1,210
Motor-vehicle deaths
(per year)

~18,230
Cancer deaths
(per year)

4 WHAT HAPPENS TO THOSE WHO CROSS?

For every 100 people who fully cross the Veil:

70
remain in long-term care
Their minds do not recover sufficiently to leave facilities such as Lakeview.

24 recover as Aware (non-Wardens)
They stabilise and eventually return to life outside the facility, with an altered perception of reality.

choose Warden training
They recover and voluntarily enter the Warden training programme.

manifests as a Channeler
A rare individual with the potential for extraordinary power and influence.

5 LIFE INSIDE LAKEVIEW

Patients at Lakeview receive 24-hour medical care, structured routines and a secure environment designed for long-term stability.

SECURITY FIRST
Controlled access, armed staff and surveillance protect patients, staff and the wider public.

ONGOING SYMPTOMS
Many patients suffer persistent disorientation, hallucinations and psychological distress, requiring continuous care.

SPECIALIST CARE
A dedicated team of psychiatrists, neurologists and support staff provide medical treatment and therapeutic programmes.

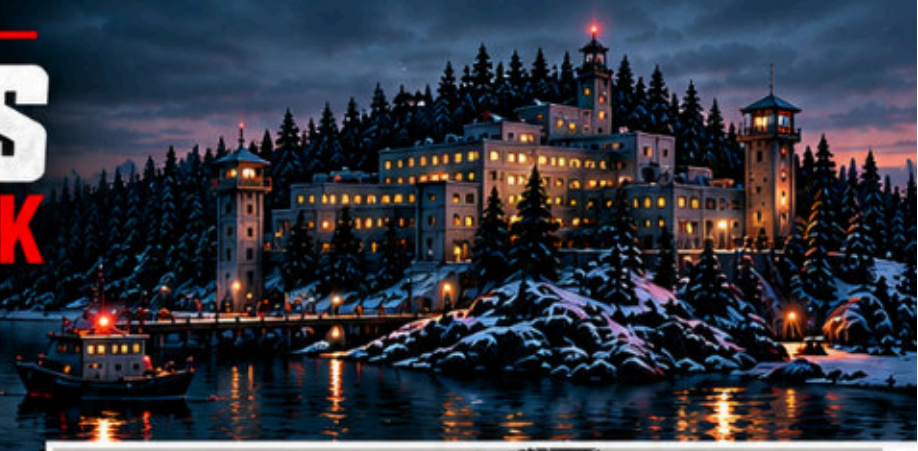
ISOLATED LOCATION
Bone Island's remote location adds an additional layer of security and limits outside contact.

RECOVERY TAKES TIME

Recovery is measured slowly. In the early stages, patients are treated for severe trauma and their memories are often confused, fragmented or dismissed as delusions. For those whose minds stabilise, treatment eventually changes from protecting them from what they saw to helping them understand it. A small number will be offered the opportunity to learn the truth, and to consider a future as a Warden.

LOCATIONS

CANADA'S FACILITY NETWORK



Canada operates three high-security psychiatric hospitals for individuals who never recover following a full crossing.

These facilities provide long-term care for the most severe and persistent cases, with each site serving a different region of the country.

1 KEY FIGURES (CANADA)

Population	~ 40,000,000
Full crossings per year	~ 400
Recovered and leave care (30%)	~ 120
New long-term cases per year (70%)	~ 280
Current long-term patients (total)	~ 840
Average duration of care	~ 3 years

2 THE MAJOR FACILITIES

LAKEVIEW — Ontario

Current long-term patients	~ 320
New long-term cases per year	~ 107

Role	Primary national facility. Houses the most complex and dangerous cases.
Security level	Maximum
Specialist focus	High-risk patients, persistent hallucinations, violent behaviour.

NORTHRIDGE — Alberta

Current long-term patients	~ 280
New long-term cases per year	~ 93

Role	Western facility. Long-term care and rehabilitation.
Security level	High
Specialist focus	Stabilisation, structured care, behavioural management.

RIVIÈRE-NOIRE — Quebec

Current long-term patients	~ 240
New long-term cases per year	~ 80

Role	Eastern facility. Long-term care and rehabilitation.
Security level	High
Specialist focus	Psychological stabilisation, long-term treatment, research and observation.

3 THE NATIONAL SYSTEM

The three facilities work together as a single, secure system. Patients may be assigned to a facility based on their needs, background or location, and can be transferred if a case requires a different level of care.

PATIENT TRANSFERS

Patients can be moved between facilities for specialist treatment, stabilisation or when a case escalates beyond a facility's capabilities.

SHARED PROTOCOLS

All three facilities follow unified medical, security and ethical protocols, with regular staff exchanges and case reviews.

CENTRALISED OVERSIGHT

The facilities operate under a single national authority, ensuring consistent standards of care, security and information control.

ISOLATION AND SECURITY

All three sites are in remote or controlled locations, with multiple layers of security to protect patients, staff and the public.

LOCATIONS

THE FIRST STEPS AT LAKEVIEW

Recovery at Lakeview is a slow and carefully managed process. Patients arrive broken, confused and often terrified. Before they can be told the truth, they must first be helped to return to a stable and coherent state of mind.

1 ARRIVAL

Most patients arrive at Lakeview under heavy sedation, often following traumatic incidents, severe psychological collapse or after being found in dangerous and incoherent states.

The early days are focused on safety — for the patient, the staff and the wider facility. Many arrive violent, catatonic or in a state of extreme fear.

2 STABILISATION

In the first weeks, the priority is to stabilise the patient's physical and mental condition.

Medication, structured routines and a controlled environment help reduce acute symptoms such as hallucinations, paranoia, severe anxiety and dissociation.

During this stage, patients are not told the full truth about what they experienced.

3 REBUILDING REALITY

As patients begin to stabilise, therapy sessions help them rebuild a consistent sense of reality. Fragmented memories are explored, traumatic events are processed, and patients learn to distinguish between psychological trauma and supernatural experience.

This stage can be slow and difficult. Many patients cycle between acceptance and denial, with setbacks common.

4 CONTROLLED EXPOSURE

Once a patient is stable, they are gradually reintroduced to the reality of the supernatural in a controlled and safe manner.

Benign spirits, such as Kaylee, may be present during this stage to help patients accept what they experienced and to learn to interact with the unseen world without panic.

This is the first step toward understanding, not yet toward service.

5 ONGOING CARE

Recovery is not linear. Some patients make rapid progress; others take months or years before they are considered stable.

Even after they accept the truth, patients remain under observation to ensure they can cope with the effects of Crossing and the mental toll of what they saw.

For many, Lakeview remains a long-term home.

6 THE NEXT STEP

For those whose minds stabilise, treatment eventually changes from protecting them from what they saw to helping them understand it.

A small number will be offered the opportunity to learn more, and to consider a future as a Warden.

Before that choice is made, patients are given time to decide what kind of life they want.

COMMON RECOVERY EXPERIENCES

While every patient is different, many report similar effects in the months after arrival at Lakeview.

FRAGMENTED MEMORIES
Events are often remembered as disconnected images, emotions or sensations rather than a clear narrative.

PERSISTENT SENSATIONS
Even after stabilisation, many patients continue to experience feelings of being watched, changes in light, or the sense of something just out of reach.

DENIAL AND DOUBT
It is common to question their own memories and to believe, at times, that everything was a dream or a psychotic episode.

FEAR OF A RETURN
Many worry that accepting the truth will make the visions and strange experiences start again. Controlled exposure helps reduce this fear.

FIRST CONTACT
Meeting a benign spirit, such as Kaylee, is often a turning point. For many, it is the first time they can accept that what they saw was real — and survivable.

FORWARD TO A CHOICE

Recovery at Lakeview is not the end of the journey. It is the beginning.
For those who are ready, the next stage is a choice — to return to life as an Aware person, or to enter Warden training.

THE TRUTH

WHAT REALLY HAPPENED

Once a patient is stable enough to cope, Lakeview begins the process of telling them the truth. What they experienced was not a mental illness. They crossed the Veil.

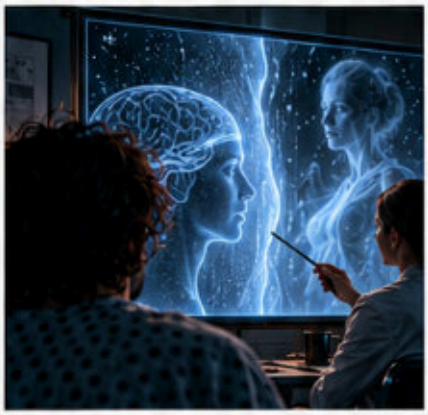
1 FROM DELUSION TO REALITY

At first, many patients believe their experiences were dreams, hallucinations or a breakdown.

When they are stable, staff begin to present evidence that what they saw is real — testimonies, recordings, physical evidence and the experiences of other patients.

This is a carefully managed process, tailored to each individual's mental state, to help them accept the truth without causing further harm.

2 WHAT IS THE VEIL?



The Veil is a collective psychic barrier created and maintained by humanity's subconscious.

It hides the supernatural from the unaware, shaping the world into a consistent and ordinary reality.

Crossing the Veil removes this protection permanently. Once you have crossed, you can never unsee what lies beyond.

3 THE LAYERS OF REALITY

MUNDUS (our world)

SPIRITUS MUNDUS (the near spirit realm)

SOMNIUM (the emotional realm)

There are multiple layers of reality, each with its own laws, dangers and inhabitants.

Mundus is our world.

Spiritus Mundus is a neighbouring layer where spirits, entities and other non-physical things exist.

Somnium is a layer where strong emotions can leave lasting impressions, preserving echoes of people, places and events.

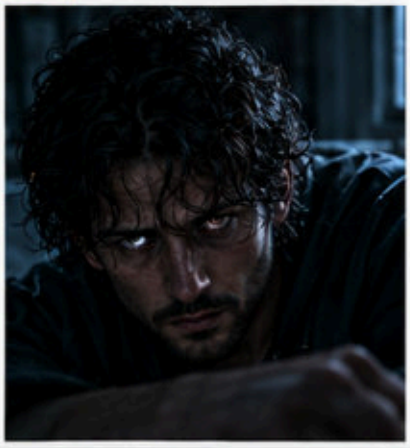
4 YOU ARE NOT ALONE

You are not the first, and you are not the only one. Every year, hundreds of people cross the Veil in Canada alone.

Many recover and return to ordinary life. Some choose to work with what they now know. A small number go on to become Wardens.

Lakeview exists to protect you, help you recover, and give you the information you need to make an informed choice about your future.

5 FEAR AFTER THE VEIL



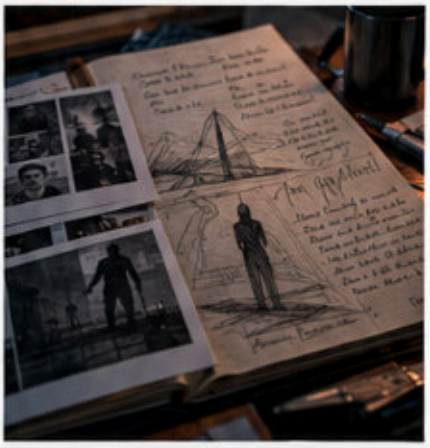
Being torn from the Veil permanently reduces a person's capacity for fear.

Much of the ordinary terror of darkness, hidden places and the unknown came from the Veil itself. That fear is often what shatters the mind during Crossing.

Survivors still feel fear and recognise danger, but fear now causes hesitation or pause rather than overwhelming panic.

Wardens can be frightened, but they do not panic in the same way ordinary people can.

6 ANSWERS AND QUESTIONS



Lakeview staff will answer what they can, but there are limits. Some knowledge is restricted for your safety and the safety of others.

You will learn the essential truths about the Veil, the realities beyond and the organisations that operate in this hidden world.

There will also be many questions that cannot yet be answered. Understanding is a process, not a single conversation.

KEY POINTS

- Your experiences were real.
- You crossed the Veil.
- There are multiple realities beyond Mundus.
- You are not alone.
- Fear is different after the Veil.
- Many questions remain.

THE CHOICE COMES NEXT

Now that you understand what happened, the next step is yours. Most people recover and return to ordinary life. Some remain Aware but choose their own path. A small number choose to enter Warden training. The following page explores these options.

PAGE 4

WHAT IS A WARDEN?

The supernatural world has always existed alongside humanity. Most people will never know it is there. Those who do must find a way to live with it.

The Wardens are the ultimate authority on supernatural matters within their city.

They are not simply hunters. The Wardens manage the relationship between humanity, the Aware, tolerated supernatural beings, and the Veil. They set the rules, decide what is acceptable, and maintain the fragile balance that allows the city to function.

They do not operate with official backup. Any help they receive depends on the relationships they maintain.

1. AUTHORITY

Within their city, the Wardens are the final authority on supernatural matters.

There is no routine higher appeal in supernatural affairs. Their authority exists to maintain the peace between humanity, the Aware, and tolerated supernatural factions.

2. THE RULES OF YOUR CITY

Every city has its own history, its own supernatural inhabitants, and its own established rules.

These rules include inherited arrangements, long-standing customs, tolerated entities, boundaries, forbidden practices, and working agreements between the Wardens, the city's Aware network, and its shadow Mayor.

When new Wardens inherit these rules, they may preserve, amend, or abolish them — but only at their own risk.

3. COEXISTENCE

Not every supernatural creature is an enemy. Some intelligent entities, including vampires and other tolerated beings, may continue to operate within the city under strict conditions if they obey its rules.

Other entities may be allowed to operate under specific arrangements. It is the Wardens who decide which creatures are permitted, what they may do, and where the line is drawn between coexistence and elimination.

4. YOUR SUPPORT NETWORK

Wardens are far less effective without the city's wider Aware network. Most cities have dozens of Aware who already live under these evolved rules.

They include contacts, informants, fixers, allies, administrators, and tolerated figures.

These people can get Wardens out of jail, secure access to officials or key people, arrange introductions, provide intelligence, transport, housing, communications, and legal help, and smooth over incidents.

This help is unofficial, never guaranteed, and depends on the relationships the Wardens maintain.

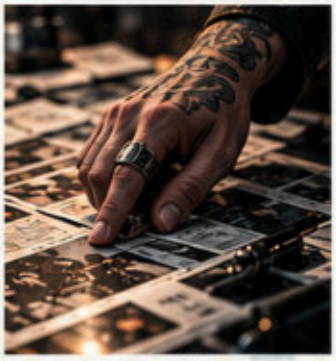
5. JUDGE, JURY AND EXECUTIONER

When disputes arise between supernatural factions, the Wardens arbitrate.

When laws are broken, the Wardens investigate.

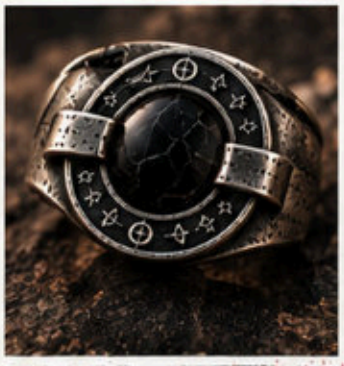
When judgement must be passed, the Wardens decide.

And when a sentence must be carried out, the Wardens are responsible for seeing it done.



6. THE RESPONSIBILITY

Ultimate authority does not mean acting alone.



Your duty is to protect your city, preserve the Veil, and maintain the peace between worlds.

Your authority only works so long as ordinary people and the city's wider network accept it, support it, or at least live under it.

Wardens usually work with the city's shadow Mayor, whose role helps keep the hidden city functioning.

YOU INHERIT THE RULES. YOU HAVE NO OFFICIAL BACKUP.
YOUR SUPPORT DEPENDS ON THE RELATIONSHIPS YOU KEEP.

THE CHOICE

YOUR PATH AFTER RECOVERY

Now that you understand what happened, you have a choice. Recovery at Lakeview does not obligate you to become a Warden. You will return to the world as an Aware person. How involved you remain is up to you.

1 YOU UNDERSTAND

You now know that what you experienced was real. The Veil, the supernatural and the other realities are not delusions.

You have processed this information and are stable.

You are not required to become a Warden. Lakeview will explain your options, answer your questions and give you time to decide.

2 THE REALITY OF YOUR CHOICE

After recovery, there are two main paths.

You can return to ordinary life as an Aware person, with different levels of involvement in the supernatural world.

Or you can choose to enter Warden training and become an active field operative.

Both paths are valid. There is no right or wrong choice — only what is right for you.

3 RETURN TO ORDINARY LIFE AS AN AWARE PERSON

Most people return to their ordinary lives. You will do so as an Aware person — you cannot unsee what you have learned, and the Veil will never fully protect you again.

Returning to life does not mean you must be actively involved. You decide how much, or how little, of the supernatural world you want in your life.

Lakeview can provide advice, contacts and limited support to help you make this transition safely.

Many Aware people live full and meaningful lives without ever becoming Wardens.

4 LEVELS OF INVOLVEMENT

KEEP YOUR DISTANCE

You know the supernatural is real, but you choose to live as normally as possible.

You avoid involvement and do not go looking for trouble.

This is a valid choice. Many Aware people keep their knowledge private and build a quiet life.

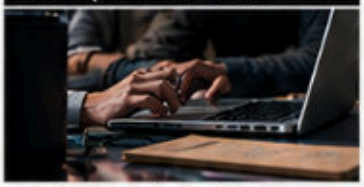
LOOK AWAY WHEN YOU CAN

You continue with your career, family and daily life, and try not to think about the supernatural unless you have to.

You do not seek involvement, and you avoid situations that might draw you into it.

You cannot return to the ignorance of the Veil, but you can choose not to engage and keep the supernatural at the edge of your life.

STAY QUIETLY USEFUL



You live an ordinary life, but remain available when needed.

You might pass on information, alert Wardens to problems, provide local knowledge or offer help on specific matters.

This allows you to contribute without becoming a field operative.

TAKE A SUPPORT ROLE

You actively assist the supernatural world without becoming a Warden.

Support roles include research, medicine, analysis, technology, administration, logistics, transport, community links and many other skills.

Support roles are essential. The hidden world relies on Aware people in many fields.

5 WARDEN TRAINING

If you choose to become a Warden, you will enter formal training.

This is demanding and can be dangerous. You will learn how to protect yourself, work with other Wardens and operate in the supernatural world.

Training covers practical skills, supernatural theory, controlled exposure and real-world operations.

Only a small number of people are accepted into training, and not everyone completes it. Those who go on to active service work to defend people and maintain the balance between worlds.

YOUR FUTURE IS YOURS

Whatever path you choose, Lakeview exists to keep you safe, informed and supported.
You are not alone, and you are not being pushed in any direction. Take the time you need.
The next page provides more information about Warden training for those who want to learn more.

LAKEVIEW

WARDEN TRAINING: INDUCTION

A VOLUNTARY PATH. A RARE OPPORTUNITY.
A PRACTICAL PURPOSE.

1 A SELECTIVE PROGRAMME

Warden training is highly selective. Only a small number of recovered Crossers each year are both suitable and willing to become Wardens.

Training cohorts are intentionally small, allowing for close supervision, individual instruction and careful assessment.

Choosing to become a Warden is entirely voluntary. You can decline and continue your life as an Aware without judgement.

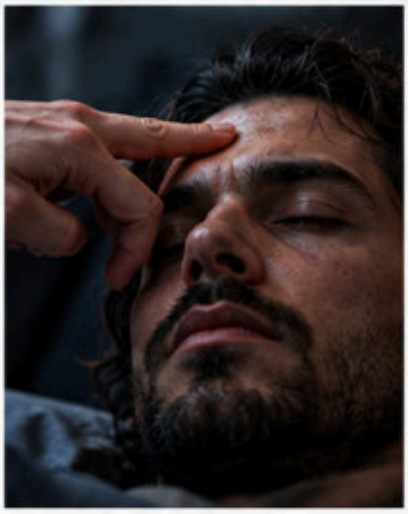
2 THE TETHER

All recovered Aware are issued a tether. This is a magical item, created by Hermetics, witches or Voodoo practitioners, and given to every Aware (including Wardens) as part of their discharge.

Wearing the tether makes you appear to spiritual entities as though you are still protected by the Veil. It also suppresses your natural ability to see into Spiritus Mundus.

The tether does not prevent you from entering Spiritus Mundus (if you choose to), but once you are there, the illusion fails and you are no longer hidden.

3 THE HYPNOTIC TRIGGER



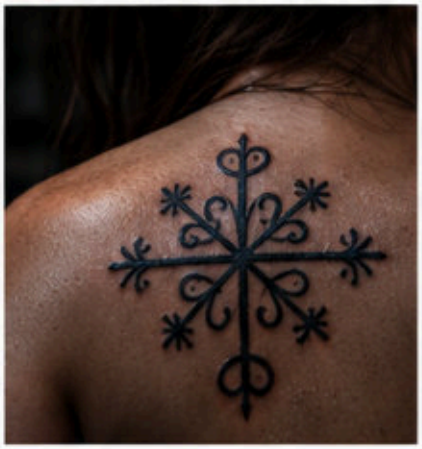
During induction, you will receive a carefully constructed hypnotic suggestion.

This gives you a reliable internal trigger, allowing you to intentionally leave your body and enter Spiritus Mundus from anywhere.

The trigger is personal to you and is reinforced through training and practice.

It is safe, controlled and reversible. You will be trained in its correct use, including when not to use it.

4 THE PROTECTIVE VEVE



As part of induction, you will receive a veve tattoo applied by a qualified practitioner.

This protects your empty body from possession while you are in Spiritus Mundus.

The tattoo is a critical part of your safety and must be kept intact. You will be given full details of its care and any restrictions.

5 TRAINING FOCUS

Warden training will give you the skills, knowledge and discipline needed to operate safely in and around Spiritus Mundus.

You will learn how spiritual entities behave, how to navigate the different layers of reality, and how to work with other Wardens and organisations.

You will learn that magic is real. However, all but the simplest rituals generally require a Channeler to perform. Wardens learn the theory, the risks and how to support and work with Channelers, not to replace them.

KEY POINTS

- Training is voluntary.
- Cohorts are small.
- All Aware receive a tether.
- A hypnotic trigger enables safe travel.
- A veve protects your body.
- Magic is real, but complex rituals require a Channeler.

LAKEVIEW

WARDEN TRAINING: LEAVING THE BODY

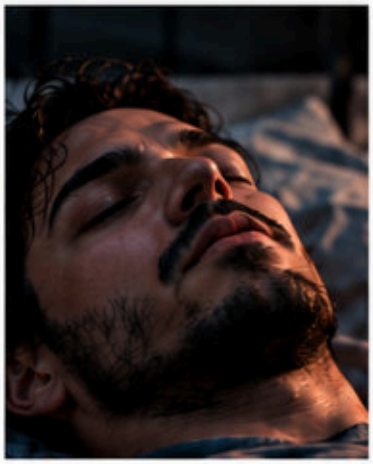
A CONTROLLED PROCESS. A PRACTICAL SKILL.
AN ESSENTIAL PART OF A WARDEN'S WORK.

1 PREPARATION

You must be in a safe location, with your body protected and unlikely to be disturbed.

Use your tether and hypnotic trigger as trained. Calm your mind, focus on your breathing and follow the induction sequence.

Distractions, fear or physical pain can make the process more difficult.



2 THE SEPARATION

As you enter Spiritus Mundus, your consciousness separates from your physical body.

You may perceive your body below you or nearby, but you do not normally see any visible cord or tether connecting you to your physical body.

The transition is usually smooth, but may feel like pressure, pulling, or a sudden shift in perception.

With practice, separation becomes quicker and easier.

3 YOUR SPIRIT FORM

In Spiritus Mundus you appear as yourself, still wearing your clothes. Wardens remain dressed, and their spirit form is a functioning version of their physical self.

You can see, hear, move and interact normally in the Resonance, walking and navigating the environment on foot.

Your senses are heightened and you can perceive things that are not visible in the physical world.

4 THE TETHER IN PRACTICE

The tether does not connect or anchor you to your body, and it does not support your return. It has a different purpose.

In the Mundus, the tether suppresses your sight into Spiritus Mundus and makes you harder for spiritual entities to notice, as though you are still Veil-protected.

In Spiritus Mundus, this illusion fails. The tether then shines brightly like a lantern in the Resonance.

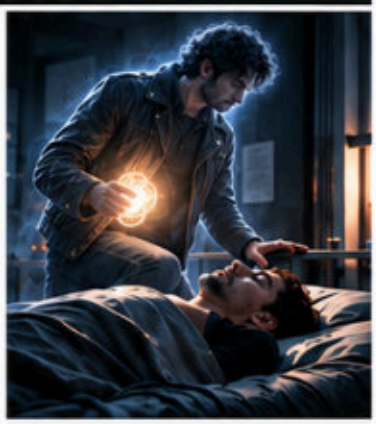
You can hold the tether in your hand to illuminate your surroundings, or tuck it into a pocket or under your jacket to reduce or conceal the glow when needed.

5 DURATION AND RETURN

There is no fixed time limit, but remaining in Spiritus Mundus for extended periods can be exhausting.

You return by reversing the process, allowing your consciousness to re-enter your body.

On return, take a moment to orient yourself. It is normal to feel disoriented, tired or emotionally affected, especially after difficult encounters.



6 RISKS AND PRECAUTIONS

Your body is vulnerable while you are outside it. It must be left in a safe place and, when possible, protected by allies or security measures.

Some entities can perceive and approach you in Spiritus Mundus. Others may attempt to follow the tether or target you directly.

Never leave your body in a dangerous location, and avoid prolonged exposure in hostile areas.

KEY POINTS

- Be in a safe location with your body protected.
- Use your tether and hypnotic trigger.
- You may perceive your body, but do not normally see a visible cord.
- The tether suppresses your sight in the Mundus and shines in the Resonance.
- Return by reversing the process.
- Your body is vulnerable. Take precautions.

WARDEN TRAINING: THE NEAR REALMS

THE SAME WORLD. DIFFERENT LAYERS.
KNOW WHERE YOU ARE, AND WHAT TO EXPECT.

1 MUNDUS (THE PHYSICAL)

The Mundus is the physical world. It is the reality most people experience, shaped and protected by the Veil.

Here, the laws of physics apply. Time, distance and geography work as expected.

The Mundus is the only place where a soul can regenerate Essence, and only at sunrise while inside its own body.

For the vast majority of humanity, the supernatural remains hidden.

2 SPIRITUS MUNDUS (THE RESONANCE)

Spiritus Mundus is an exact copy of the real world in its current state. The same streets, buildings and people are here, and the sun still shines, but all colour has been drained from the world.

This is the first realm beyond the Veil, and it overlays the Mundus.

It is home to spirits, echoes and many other entities, especially those that prey on the living or seek to enter the Mundus.

The geography and layout match the physical world, allowing you to move and interact with your surroundings as you would in the Mundus, though some things may behave differently.

3 SOMNIUM (THE DREAMING)

Somnium is an exact copy of the real world, but shrouded in an endless daytime fog.

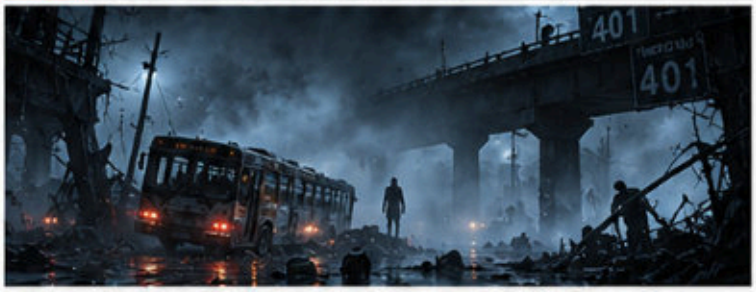
Places and distances are the same, but what you see is often frozen in time at the moment of the last great emotion experienced there.

These frozen scenes can be peaceful, violent or bizarre, and they may repeat endlessly.

Through concentration, a trained Warden can move through the fog to any location on Earth very quickly, ignoring distance.

Somnium is home to dream-spirits, thought-forms and other malleable entities. It can be a source of knowledge, but it is also disorienting and unpredictable.

4 PURGATORIUM (THE BETWEEN)



Purgatorium is made up of clips and snippets of the real world, mostly places where the dead died.

Here, the recently dead relive their final moments over and over again. These scenes are fragmented, unstable and often hostile.

The realm is shrouded in an endless fog at night. The geography is inconsistent, with locations appearing, vanishing or looping.

You will encounter the dead, ghosts, and many other entities drawn to these places of death.

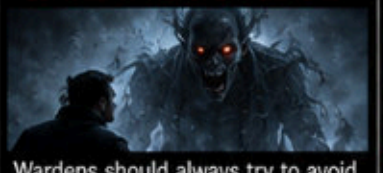
Travel here requires experience, preparation and caution.

5 WARDEN WARNINGS

ESSENCE AND ATTENTION

The deeper you go, the more the inhabitants can sense Essence use like a shark in the water. Use it sparingly and be aware that it attracts unwanted attention.

DEMONS IN THE SPIRIT REALMS



Wardens should always try to avoid facing demons in the spirit realms. Here they can be extremely powerful. The Rite of Exorcism is performed in the Mundus for a reason, where the body and the conditions of the ritual can be controlled.

INFERNUM IS NOT BELOW YOUR FEET

Below Purgatorium lies the Infernum (Hell). You cannot simply pass into it by opening a Threshold. There are only 66 known ways into Infernum, and all are specific, rare and difficult to access.

KNOW WHERE YOU ARE

Each realm follows different laws and presents different dangers. Understand their nature, prepare properly, and never assume that what works in one realm will work in another.

WARDEN TRAINING

CROSSING BETWEEN REALMS

OPENING THRESHOLDS. MOVING THROUGH. STAYING IN CONTROL.

1 OPENING A THRESHOLD

A Warden can open a Threshold using any suitable doorway, entrance or transition point. It does not need to be a special place. Doors, windows, alleys, tunnels and even open ground can be used.

Opening a Threshold is not instantaneous. It takes about 30 relative seconds to open a Threshold. The Warden must spend 1 Essence and concentrate, laying aside the Veil and creating a temporary passage to the adjacent realm.

2 ADJACENT TRAVEL ONLY

Normal Warden travel between the near realms must move through adjacent layers. A Threshold cannot skip an intervening realm.

For example, a Warden cannot open directly from Spiritus Mundus to Purgatorium. They must travel through Somnium, the intervening realm.

There are exceptional means of direct travel between non-adjacent levels, but these methods are rare and not available to ordinary Wardens.

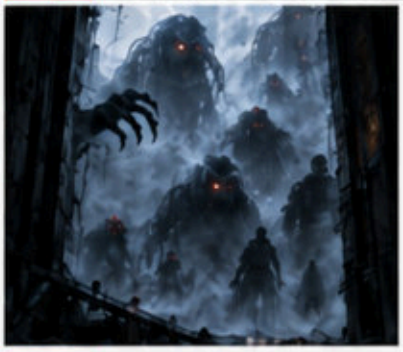
3 CLOSING A THRESHOLD

A Threshold will close naturally after a time.

A Warden can force it shut early by spending a further 1 Essence. Closing a Threshold is not instantaneous. It takes about 30 relative seconds to force one shut.

Once closed, it cannot be reopened from the other side unless a new Threshold is opened.

4 LEAVING A THRESHOLD OPEN



While a Threshold remains open, creatures from the Resonance can attempt to use it.

Leaving a Threshold open is extremely dangerous. If a creature finds the route, it may follow you into the Mundus.

You should only keep a Threshold open when necessary, and always have a plan to close it once everyone has passed through or the situation is secure.

5 ESSENCE IN THE RESONANCE

Spending Essence in the Resonance is like lighting a flare.

The deeper you go, the more easily the inhabitants can sense Essence use, even at a distance. Use Essence sparingly and only when necessary.

In the Mundus, Essence regenerates at sunrise while your soul is inside your body. It does not regenerate in the Resonance.

6 THE RESONANCE WANTS UP

The creatures of the Resonance are always looking for a way up into the Mundus, but most lack the Essence to open a Threshold themselves.

They will attack Wardens and others in an attempt to drain their Essence.

If they find an open Threshold, they will try to follow you through.

Most Resonance creatures are near-mindless things of instinct, but not all are.

7 UNDERSTANDING THE NEAR REALMS

The near realms refers to all realms beyond the Mundus.

In everyday use, it usually means the three primary layers: Spiritus Mundus, Somnium and Purgatorium.

These realms are home to a vast number of entities: spirits, ghosts and other creatures. Most are near-mindless beings driven by instinct, but not all are.

Some are intelligent, organized and extremely dangerous.

CANNOT SKIP AN INTERVENING REALM

E.g. you cannot open directly from Spiritus Mundus to Purgatorium. You must pass through Somnium.

WARDEN WARNING:

- Opening or closing a Threshold takes about 30 relative seconds.
- You can only travel between adjacent realms. Direct travel between non-adjacent levels is possible, but rare and not available to ordinary Wardens.
- Creatures of the Resonance will attack to drain your Essence and may follow you through an open Threshold.
- Most Resonance creatures are near-mindless things of instinct, but not all.
- Never leave a Threshold open unless you are prepared for what might come through.

LAKEVIEW

WARDEN TRAINING: KNOW WHAT YOU'RE LOOKING AT

SPIRITS, GHOSTS, DEMONS AND DEADITES

SPIRITS ARE REAL. NOT ALL OF THEM ARE HUMAN.
IDENTIFY THE BEING BEFORE CHOOSING A COUNTERMEASURE.

1 SPIRITS / THE GENERAL CATEGORY

Spirits are non-physical beings that exist in the Resonance. They include ghosts, demons and beings that were never human.

They interact with the Mundus to varying degrees. Each type has its own abilities, motives and vulnerabilities. Identify the being before choosing a countermeasure.

2 GHOSTS / THE DEAD AWARE

Ghosts are the spirits of dead Aware humans who crossed the Threshold without becoming Channelers.

Trauma, unfinished business or powerful emotions may keep them tied to the Mundus.

Most are not inherently hostile, but may be confused, unstable or emotionally driven.

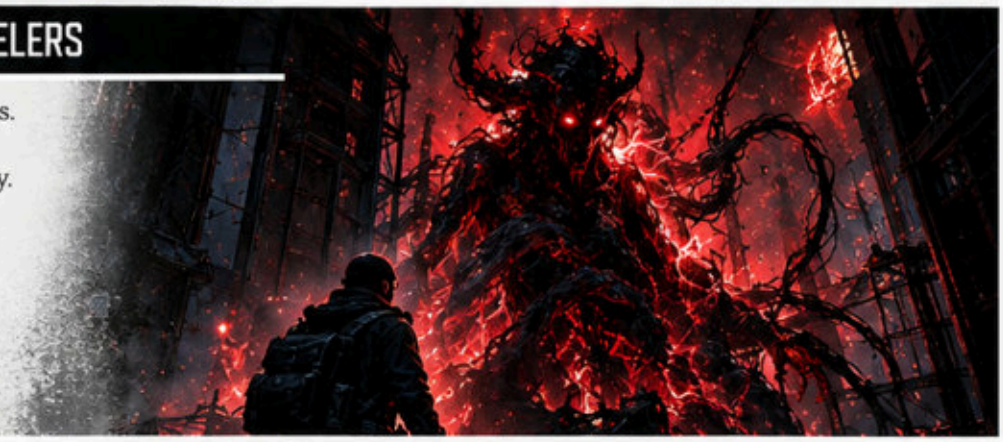
In the Resonance, ghosts use Intelligence for To-Hit.

3 DEMONS / DEAD CHANNELERS

Demons are the spirits of dead Channelers. They retain their will, magical tradition, power and often much of their personality.

Some seek to return to the Mundus through possession. They are often intelligent and manipulative.

In the Resonance, demons use Intelligence for To-Hit.



4 DEADITES / PRIMORDIUM POSSESSIONS

Deadites are humans possessed by demons originating in the Primordium. Multiple demons may inhabit one host, creating an unstable, highly aggressive being. They can spread possession to other humans, up to the number of demons inhabiting the original host.

DEADITES MUST BE DISMEMBERED TO BE PERMANENTLY STOPPED.

Ordinary lethal injury is not enough. Burning, sunlight or other damage may slow a deadite, but only dismemberment will end the possession.

OTHER SPIRITS

Elementals, guardians and ancient entities may never have been human. Their motives and rules vary. Appearance alone is not a reliable guide. Study, observe and be prepared.

LAKEVIEW

WARDEN TRAINING: WHEN THE HOST IS PHYSICAL

POSSESSION, TRANSFORMED BODIES, AND WHAT CHANGES WHEN THE THREAT HAS FLESH.

1 POSSESSED BODIES

A demon gains entry when the host's Willpower reaches 0 and an invitation is given, willingly or through coercion. Possession proceeds through Infestation, Oppression, Obsession and Domination. Exorcism is possible before complete fusion. After full fusion, it is impossible.

LOOK FOR:

- Unnatural behaviour or changes in personality
- Blackened or hollow eyes
- Unnatural strength or speed
- Speaking in other voices
- Religious or occult symbols
- Periods of lost time
- Evidence of the four stages (Infestation → Oppression → Obsession → Domination)

COUNTERMEASURES:

- Exorcism before full fusion
- Holy water (irritates and reveals possession)
- Warding circles
- Silver (damages Essence)
- Identify and sever the source of the invitation
- Remove the host from the situation

2 VAMPIRES / RETURNED ADEPTS

A vampire is a human possessed by the spirit of a dead Channeler adept. The host gains enhanced physical abilities and unnatural resilience. Vampires regenerate by spending Essence. Normal weapons inflict ordinary physical damage; silver also damages Essence. They are physical and cannot be forced down a stratum.

LOOK FOR:

- Pale skin, cold appearance
- Enhanced strength, speed and resilience
- Little or no reaction to pain
- Feeding behaviour (blood)
- Manipulative, predatory behaviour
- Heals rapidly from injury
- Hostile to sunlight

COUNTERMEASURES:

- Sunlight is highly effective (–1 Essence and –1 END per turn)
- Silver (damages both body and Essence)
- Holy water (irritates and reveals)
- Warding circles
- Destroy the host body
- Prevent escape and feeding

3 WEREWOLVES / FERAL RETURNED ADEPTS

A werewolf is a feral form of returned adept: a possessed human whose connection manifests in a bestial form. They are strong, fast and resilient. They regenerate by spending Essence. Silver damages both the physical body and Essence. Werewolves are physical and cannot be forced down a stratum.

LOOK FOR:

- Bestial form or transformation
- Extreme strength, speed and resilience
- Aggressive, territorial behaviour
- Heals rapidly from injury
- Evidence of human origin (clothing, items)
- Attacks on animals or people
- Presence in rural or natural areas

COUNTERMEASURES:

- Silver (damages both body and Essence)
- Fire is highly effective
- Holy water (irritates and reveals)
- Warding circles
- Destroy the host body
- Prevent escape to rural areas
- Eliminate the pack threat

4 GHOULS / WEAK POSSESSIONS

Ghouls result from weak but successful possession. The host is partially transformed, gaining unnatural hunger, strength and resilience. They are bestial and difficult to reason with. They regenerate by spending Essence, less efficiently than vampires or werewolves. Check fusion before attempting exorcism.

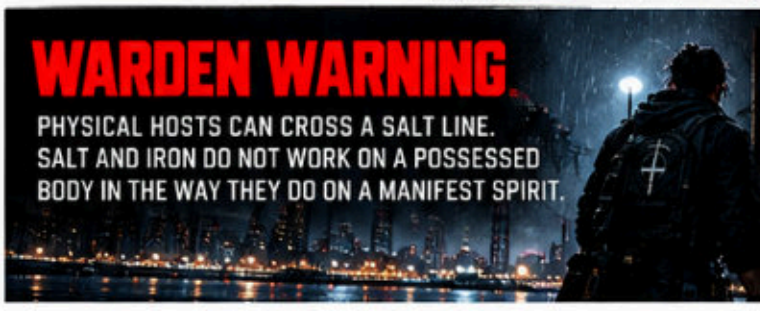
LOOK FOR:

- Emaciated or distorted appearance
- Unnatural hunger (especially for human flesh)
- Enhanced strength or resilience
- Animalistic behaviour
- Unexplained disappearances or missing bodies
- Poor hygiene, ruined clothing
- Aggressive when threatened

COUNTERMEASURES:

- Holy water (irritates and reveals)
- Warding circles
- Silver (damages both body and Essence)
- Destroy the host body
- Prevent access to new hosts
- Identify and eliminate feeding sources

WARDEN WARNING



PHYSICAL HOSTS CAN CROSS A SALT LINE. SALT AND IRON DO NOT WORK ON A POSSESSED BODY IN THE WAY THEY DO ON A MANIFEST SPIRIT.

EXORCISM DEPENDS ON FUSION
Before complete fusion, exorcism may remove the possessing spirit. After full fusion, it is impossible.

SILVER MATTERS
Against vampires, werewolves and ghouls, silver damages both the physical body and Essence.

NO STRATUM DROP
Vampires, werewolves and other physical hosts cannot be forced down a Resonance stratum.

OBSERVE FIRST
Not all demons appear hostile. Gather information and identify the type before acting.

LAKEVIEW

WARDEN TRAINING: POSSESSION TYPES

RECOGNISE THE PATTERN. USE THE RIGHT RESPONSE.

DEMONS MANIFEST IN DIFFERENT WAYS. IDENTIFY WHAT YOU ARE FACING BEFORE YOU ACT. WRONG COUNTERMEASURES CAN MAKE THINGS WORSE.

1 CROSSROAD DEMONS / VADOAN POSSESSIONS

Crossroad demons are associated with the Voodoo tradition. They possess humans to manipulate, bargain and create chaos.

They often operate through temptation, deals, addiction and personal desire. Many appear charming, helpful or charismatic.

LOOK FOR:

- Unusual luck or opportunity
- Signs of deals, promises or bargains
- Sudden changes in behaviour
- Symbols, offerings or crossroads imagery

COUNTERMEASURES:

- Holy water (irritates and reveals)
- Warding circles
- Voodoo goofer dust (blocks)
- Disrupt the deal or offering
- Remove the host from the situation

2 NATURE DEMONS / WICCAN POSSESSIONS

Nature demons possess animals, plants or people closely tied to the natural world. They are common in forests, rural areas and places of strong natural Resonance.

They can inhabit humans or animals, and may take highly aggressive forms such as possessed trees, wildlife or wendigo.

LOOK FOR:

- Aggressive, unnatural behaviour in animals or plants
- Distorted or withered vegetation
- Inhuman strength or speed
- Signs of infection spreading to other living things

COUNTERMEASURES:

- Fire is highly effective
- Holy water (irritates and reveals)
- Warding circles
- Destroy the host body (tree, animal, etc.)
- Prevent spread to other hosts

3 OPPRESSION DEMONS / HERMETIC POSSESSIONS

Oppression demons are returned Hermetics. They possess humans, often those in positions of power or influence.

They are among the most dangerous demons, with extensive supernatural abilities, resources and networks. They can be difficult to identify, as they often appear as respected, respectable members of society.

LOOK FOR:

- High-ranking or influential individuals
- Unusual authority, control or charisma
- Inconsistent behaviour or knowledge
- Signs of Hermetic symbolism or ritual

COUNTERMEASURES:

- Holy water (irritates and reveals)
- Warding circles
- Expose and isolate from sources of power
- Sever support networks
- Exorcism only possible before full fusion (see Exorcism Process)

4 INFESTATION DEMONS / POSSESSED PLACES

Infestation demons inhabit places rather than people. They can take root in buildings, rooms, objects or entire sites.

They create an oppressive environment, distort Resonance and may spread to nearby areas. People within the area can be influenced, driven mad or converted into hosts over time.

LOOK FOR:

- Persistent feelings of unease
- Unexplained noises or movements
- Distorted space, temperature or light
- Recurring symbols or markings
- Increasing incidents of possession

COUNTERMEASURES:

- Holy water (irritates and reveals)
- Warding circles
- Identify and destroy the source
- Consecrate or cleanse the area
- Evacuate if necessary
- May require specialist ritual (tradition-specific)

IMPORTANT

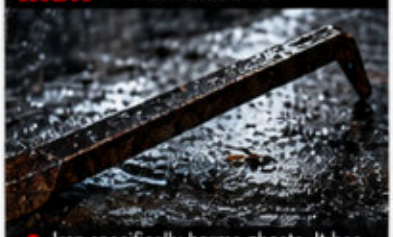
POSSESSION CAN BE SUBTLE. NOT ALL DEMONS APPEAR HOSTILE. OBSERVE, GATHER INFORMATION AND IDENTIFY THE TYPE BEFORE ACTING.

LAKEVIEW

FIGHTING WHAT YOU'RE LOOKING AT

PRACTICAL COUNTERMEASURES AGAINST SPIRITS, POSSESSION AND RETURNED ADEPTS IN MUNDUS.

IRON — FOR GHOSTS



- Iron specifically harms ghosts. It has no effect on spirits or demons.
- Iron weapons damage the ghost's physical manifestation and Essence.
- Useful for driving, restraining or finishing a ghost.

SALT — FOR SPIRITS

- Direct contact (thrown or shotgun delivers) does 1 Essence damage and dissipates the spirit for 1 turn.
- Creates a hard barrier line that spirits cannot cross.
- Does not harm physical hosts.

SILVER — FOR THE POSSESSED

- Silver damages both the physical body and Essence of physically possessed targets: vampires, werewolves and ghouls.
- Use silver weapons or ammunition when dealing with a host that has flesh.

SHOTGUNS / LOAD FOR THE TARGET

- A shotgun is versatile against supernatural threats.
- Rock salt loads are effective against spirits.
- Silver loads are effective against physically possessed targets such as vampires, werewolves and ghouls.

SUNLIGHT — NATURAL ENEMY

- Physical demons (including those in hosts) lose 1 Essence and 1 Endurance per turn in direct sunlight.
- Hurts, burns and drives them back.
- Spirits cannot manifest in direct sunlight at all.

FIRE — ESPECIALLY NATURE HOSTS

- Fire is especially effective against nature possessions (e.g. animal or plant hosts).
- Fire burns physical demons and is particularly effective against nature hosts.
- Causes normal physical damage.
- Use with caution in urban areas.

HOLY WATER — DIAGNOSE AND REPEL

- Does not inflict damage.
- Hurts and repels the possessing presence.
- Reveals that a person, object or place is possessed.
- Stuns or drives back the possession temporarily.

GOOFER DUST — BLOCK DEMONS

- Voodoo goofer dust can be used to block demons in the same way as salt blocks spirits.
- Useful for doors, windows and containment areas.
- Creates a barrier that demons cannot cross.

WARDING CIRCLES — KEEP THEM OUT

- Warding circles work on demons by creating a protected area or safe room and keeping demons out.
- They do not stop physical hosts from entering.
- Effective against demons.
- Combine with salt lines for greater protection.

SUMMONING CIRCLES — TRAP THEM INSIDE

- A properly prepared summoning circle can contain a demon that has entered its boundary.
- Unlike a warding circle, which keeps demons out, a summoning circle prevents them from leaving.
- Skilled Wardens may conceal such circles beneath rugs, flooring or overhead surfaces to lure a demon into the trap.
- Keep the boundary unbroken and maintain the circle.

EXORCISM — BEFORE FULL FUSION

- Possible during the early stages only: Infestation → Oppression → Obsession.
- Requires the appropriate tradition, ritual and preparation.
- Once the host and demon have fully fused (Domination), exorcism is no longer possible.
- Use with a trained team and proper support.

KNOW YOUR TARGET

The same tool does not work on everything. Identify what you are fighting before you act.

- Ghost? Use iron.
- Spirit? Use salt.
- Physically possessed? Use silver.
- Demon? Use sunlight, warding circles, holy water or goofer dust.
- Not sure? Assume personal risk and prepare multiple options.

FIELD RULES

PREPARATION, IDENTIFICATION AND DISCIPLINE KEEP YOU ALIVE.

OBSERVE
Look for physical signs, behaviour and environment clues.

IDENTIFY
Determine what you are dealing with before choosing a tool.

PREPARE
Carry the right ammunition, materials and ritual tools.

COMBINE
Multiple countermeasures are more effective than one.

MAINTAIN DISTANCE
Do not allow a host to reach you. Prevent escape and eliminate feeding sources.

5. FIGHTING IN THE RESONANCE
WHAT YOU CARRY MATTERS

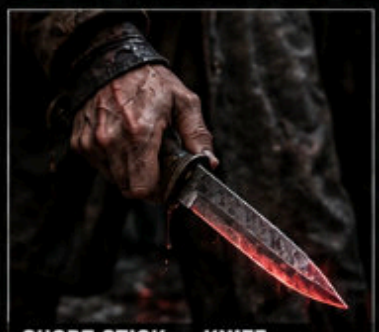
IN THE RESONANCE, BELIEF GIVES FORM, AND INTENT GIVES STRENGTH. WHAT YOU TAKE WITH YOU CAN MEAN THE DIFFERENCE BETWEEN SURVIVAL AND OBLIVION.

1. WEAPONS OF WOOD

Weapons used in the Resonance must be made from east-growing peach, rowan, or elm. These woods hold spiritual integrity and can harm demonic entities. Before crossing, a weapon must be blooded — cut yourself with it and let your blood mark the wood. This binds it to you in the Resonance.

LONG STICK — KATANA

A single long stick becomes a katana in the Resonance — a fully formed, razor-edged blade.

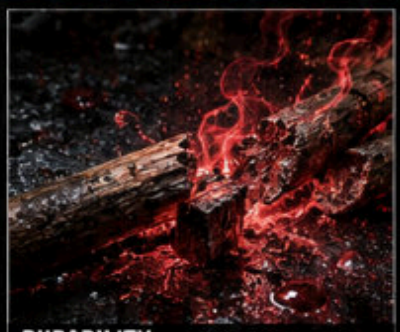


SHORT STICK — KNIFE

A smaller stick becomes a knife or short blade. Three small sticks can be combined and carried as one item (see Carry Limits).

BOW AND ARROWS

A prepared bow functions in the Resonance as a true bow. Each arrow you carry will manifest as a fully formed, lethal projectile.



DURABILITY

Melee weapons have a spiritual durability based on your Conviction. After a number of successful hits equal to your Conviction, the weapon burns and rots away in your hands. Bows do not degrade. Arrows can be recovered and reused.

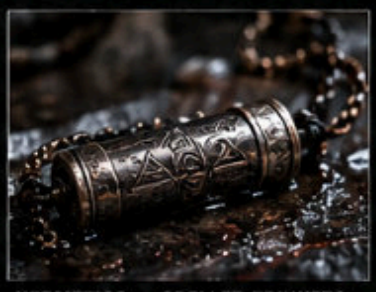
2. PROTECTIVE ITEMS

VADOAN — JUJU BAGS

Vadoan can create juju bags that function as armour in the Resonance.

WICCANS — PROTECTIVE CHARMS

Wiccans can craft charms and bindings that provide spiritual protection.



HERMETICS — SPELLED TRINKETS

Hermetics can create spelled trinkets that offer defence in the Resonance.

RELIGIOUS SYMBOLS

A meaningful religious symbol — such as a cross, crucifix, Star of David, pentacle, veve, or other sacred token — can also provide protection, if it holds genuine personal or cultural significance.

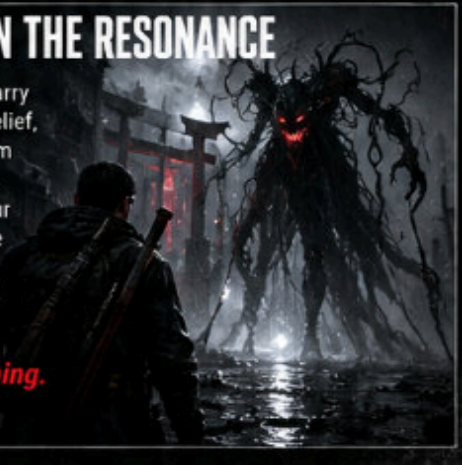
3. CARRY LIMITS

You may carry 1 prepared item per point of your maximum Will into the Resonance. Your tether counts as 1 item. A long stick, bow, or protective item each count as 1 item. Each arrow counts as 1 item. Three small sticks (knives) count as 1 item. Religious symbols, juju bags, charms, and spelled trinkets each count as 1 item.

4. FIELD RULES IN THE RESONANCE

In the Resonance, what you carry is shaped by your will, your belief, and your intent. Weapons harm demons, and protective items reduce their influence, but your own mental and spiritual state determines how long you can hold out. Choose your loadout carefully.

You cannot take everything.
Only what matters.



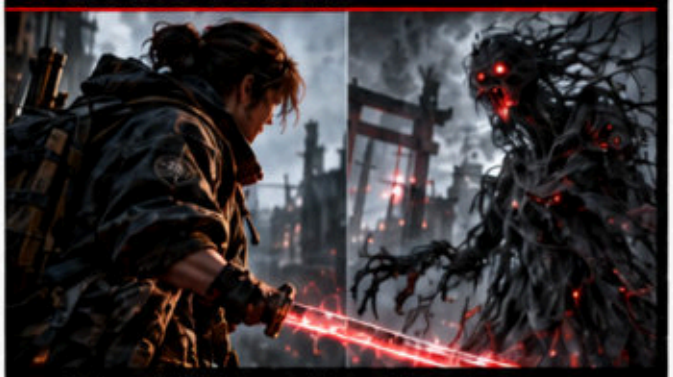
LAKEVIEW

WARDEN TRAINING

COMBAT IN THE RESONANCE

HOW A FIGHT WORKS ONCE YOU CROSS.

1. LIVING VS DEAD



- Projected Wardens are living spirits and use the normal weapon skill, but replace the physical attribute bonus with Charisma.
- Dead spirits such as ghosts and demons use Intelligence to hit.

2. WEAPON DAMAGE

KATANA – 2d6 + WILL BONUS | KNIFE – 1d6 + WILL BONUS | BOW – 2d6 + WILL BONUS

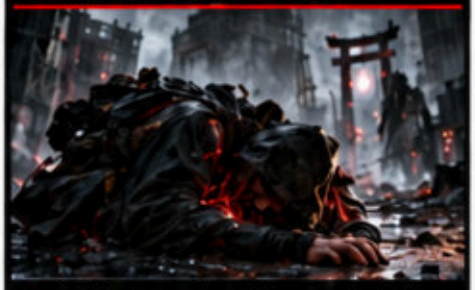
- Melee weapon attacks: Melee skill level + Charisma bonus to hit.
- Knife attacks (melee): Melee skill level + Charisma bonus to hit.
- Bow attacks: Bow skill level + Charisma bonus to hit.
- Thrown knife attacks: Athletics + Charisma bonus to hit.
- All attacks by living Wardens still use the normal weapon skill, replacing the physical attribute bonus with Charisma.

3. SPIRITUAL AV

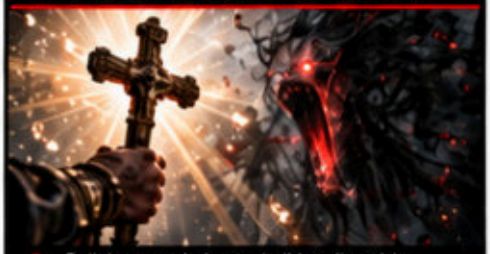
- Juju bags, witch charms, Hermetic trinkets, and similar prepared protective items provide Spiritual AV +2, +4, or +6.
- Spiritual AV is flat damage reduction.
- A character's total Spiritual AV equals their Max Essence bonus plus one protective item.
- Protective items do not stack with each other.

4. ZERO ESSENCE



- If a Warden reaches 0 Essence, they fall unconscious in the Resonance.
- They can only be restored by being returned to their physical body, by a Channeler transferring some of their own Essence, or by an appropriate restorative item such as a one-use juju bag.
- If a spirit reaches 0 Essence, it is forced down one Resonance stratum.

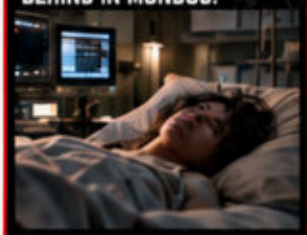
5. RELIGIOUS SYMBOLS



- Religious symbols repel all hostile spirits.
- To press through the symbol's influence, the hostile spirit and the bearer make a contested Will test. Both roll 2d6 + Will modifier against 8+.
- The effect is the amount by which each side beats 8. Compare Effects. The defender wins ties.
- If the spirit gets through, then while the symbol remains visible it attacks at +1 difficulty level because it is distracted and repelled.

6. FIELD RULES

YOUR BODY REMAINS BEHIND IN MUNDUS.



Your physical body remains behind in Mundus while you are in the Resonance. If your Essence reaches 0, you fall unconscious until you are restored.

SPEND ESSENCE CAREFULLY.

Attacks, special abilities, and prolonged activity all cost Essence. Keep track of your Essence and avoid unnecessary risks.

INTELLIGENT SPIRITS MAY RETREAT.

Intelligent spirits may choose to retreat rather than risk being forced down a stratum. Not every fight ends with destruction.

KEEP YOUR BODY AND ALLIES PROTECTED.

Your physical body remains behind in Mundus while you are in the Resonance. Make sure it is secure, and do not leave unconscious or vulnerable allies exposed.

CHOOSE WHETHER TO PRESS OR DISENGAGE.

Know your objective. Sometimes the right choice is to press the attack. Sometimes survival means disengaging.

LAKEVIEW

YOU'RE CLEARED

FROM PATIENT TO WARDEN

1 FINAL ASSESSMENT

When Lakeview judges a patient stable, competent, and ready for duty, therapy ends and Warden induction begins. From this point forward, the patient is treated as operational personnel.

2 THE WARDEN TATTOO

Before release, the new Warden receives the Warden tattoo. This mark protects the unattended physical body from being taken by possession while the Warden operates in the spirit realms.

3 STANDARD LOADOUT

Every new Warden is issued a basic field loadout before transfer. Local additions may come later, but no Warden arrives empty-handed.

4 TRANSFER TO YOUR CITY

Once cleared, the new Warden is transported to the city they will serve. Lakeview's work is over; local responsibility begins.

5 MEET THE MAYOR AND GUIDE

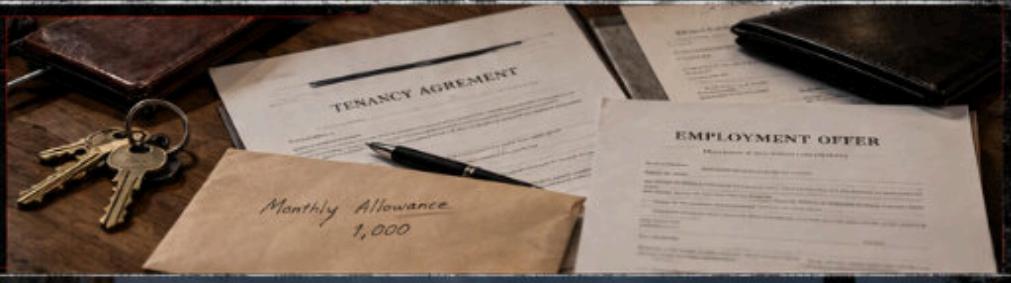
On arrival, the Warden is introduced to the city's Mayor and to their Guide. The Guide becomes the Warden's official day-to-day point of contact and first source of local direction.

6 LOCAL INTRODUCTION

Where appropriate, the Mayor may arrange an introduction gathering at the city's equivalent of the Raven's Loft. The purpose is practical recognition, not hospitality. New Wardens are shown the city's key supernatural and aware actors so no one mistakes them — or is mistaken by them. Typical introductions may include Hermetics, Jaeger, Wiccans, recognised city vampires, an Aware Union representative, and other relevant local figures.

7 HOUSING AND WORK

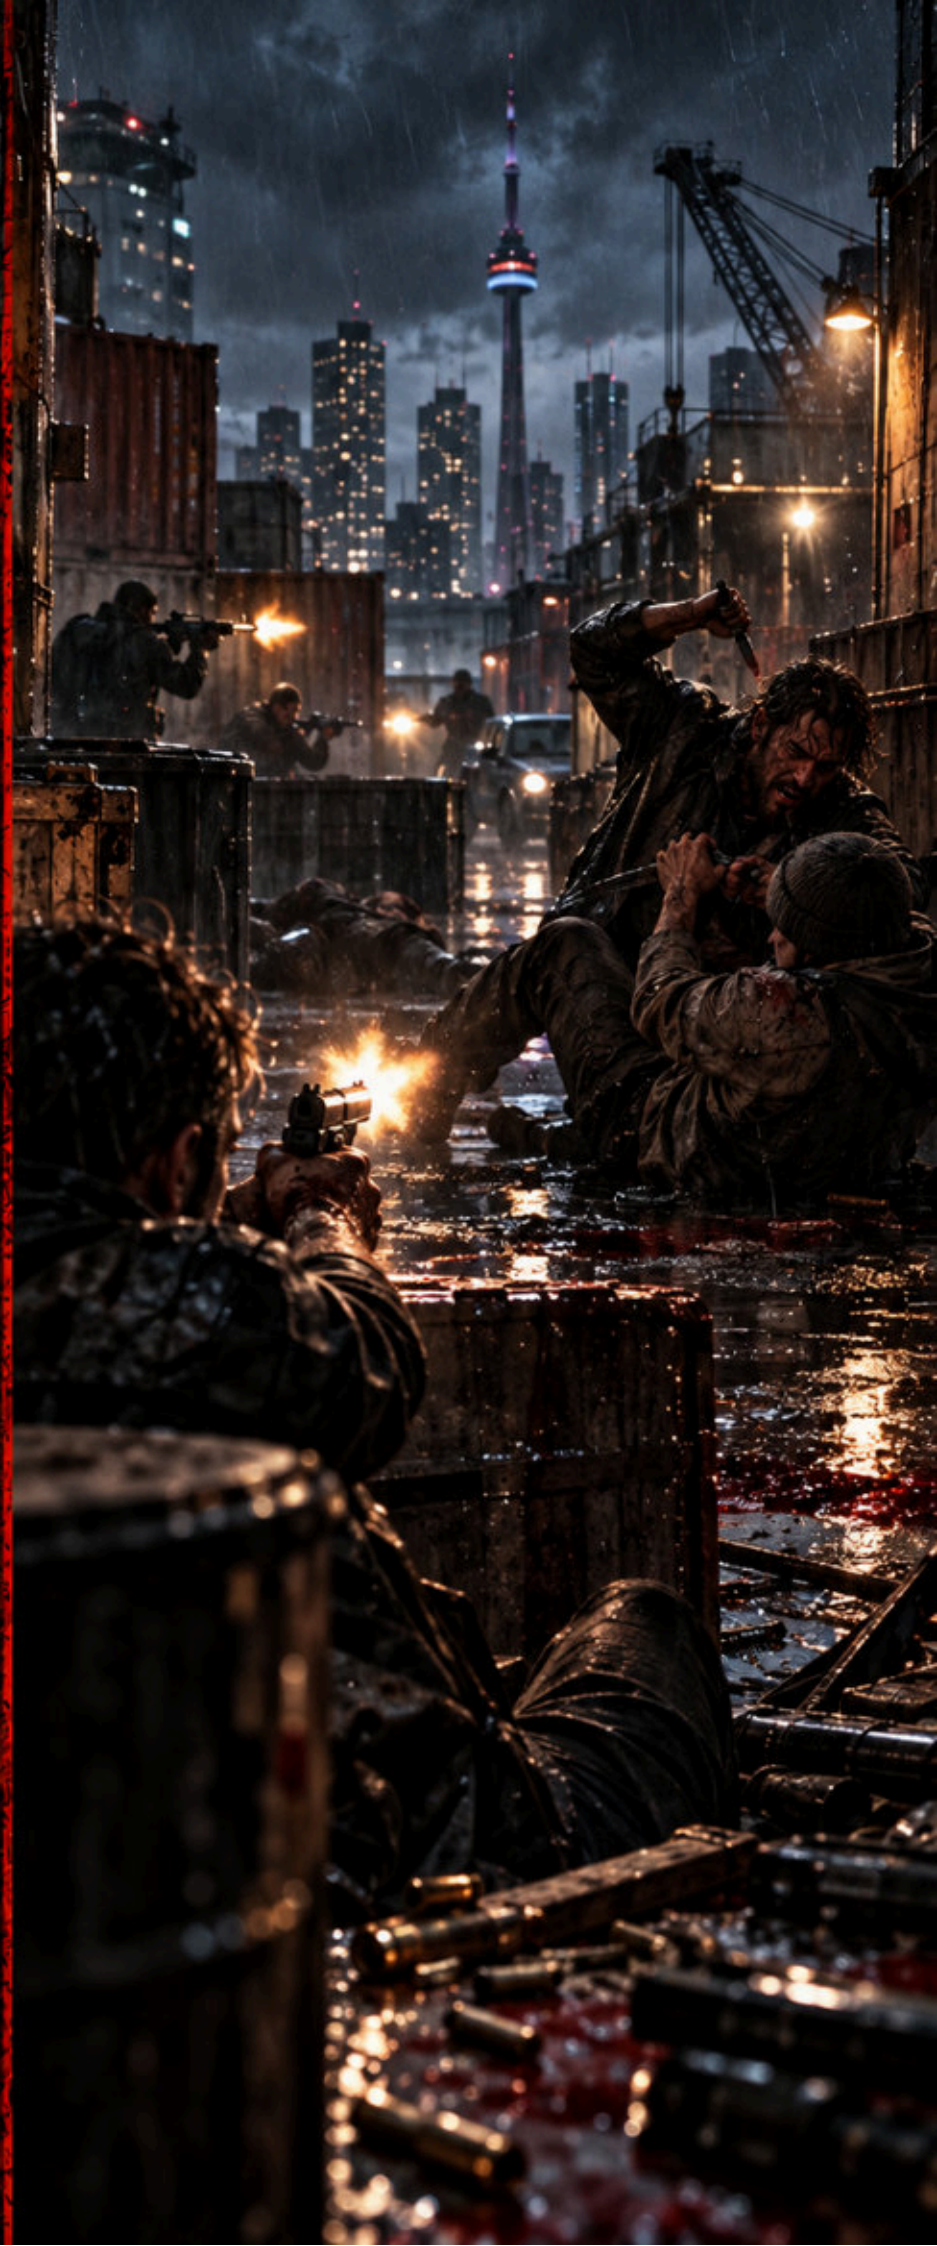
The Mayor helps arrange housing, preferably together or nearby. The Mayor also helps place Wardens in employment with employers already informed that they may need to leave without warning and without questions. In addition to normal wages, each Warden receives an extra 1,000 per month from the Mayor for Warden duty.



YOUR NEW LIFE

Trust your Guide. Learn the local map of power.
Know who is recognised, tolerated, and hostile.
Keep your body, housing, work, and duty in balance.
Lakeview is over. Your city is waiting.

COMBAT RULES



INITIATIVE, TIMING & REACTIONS

1 SURPRISE ROUND

If neither side is expecting combat, the GM decides which side, if any, is surprised.
Surprised characters do not roll Initiative in the Surprise Round. They cannot act, defend or react until the next round.

2 INITIATIVE ROLL

At the start of each round, every non-surprised character rolls 2d6 and adds their Initiative bonus. They also gain +1 Initiative for each Character Level.

Characters gain +1 Initiative for each Character Level.	Level 1: +1 Level 2: +2 Level 3: +3 Level 4: +4

The highest total acts first. Ties are resolved by the GM.

3 INITIATIVE ORDER

Characters act in order from highest to lowest Initiative. Each character takes their turn, spends AP and resolves their actions before the next character acts.

When everyone has acted, the round ends and a new round begins with a new Initiative roll.

4 HOLDING AP

You have 3 Action Points (AP) each round. You spend them to move, attack, defend, and react.

If you do not spend all your AP during your Action Phase, you may hold the unspent AP for later in the round.

- Held AP may be split between separate defensive actions (such as multiple Blocks or Dodges).
- A character may attack and then hold their remaining AP for defence.
- Once a character has begun attacking, any AP held afterward may not be used for further attacks that round.

5 READY

You may enter the Ready state during your turn.
You may move, but may not make an attack on the turn you enter Ready.

While Ready, attacks against you are 1 Difficulty Level harder.

This stacks with movement. If you have moved at all during the round, including a free 1m move, attacks against you are 2 Difficulty Levels harder in total.

Ready = +1 Difficulty Level
Moved = +1 Difficulty Level
Both = +2 Difficulty Levels

You lose Ready if:

- You are successfully hit.
- You use Emergency Dodge.
- You move farther than your Base Move (normally 6m).

Other defensive actions do not remove Ready.

Once Ready is lost, it cannot be regained until the next round.

6 COUNTERATTACKS

If you are Ready and an enemy misses you with a Tactical Attack or an All In Attack, you may make a Counterattack against that attacker.

The Counterattack is resolved immediately.

A successful defence does not trigger a Counterattack; the attack must miss.

A Counterattack does not remove your Ready state.

7 MOVING PAST ENEMIES

If you have a higher Initiative than an enemy, you may move past them during your turn without provoking an Attack of Opportunity, as they have not yet acted.

Once an enemy has taken their turn, normal rules apply.

8 RANGED TARGETS AND LINE OF SIGHT

If a target was visible to you at any point during your turn, all ranged attacks made against that target during that turn may be resolved from that visible point.

If an earlier attack moves the target out of sight (for example by knockback, falling or taking cover), you may still resolve your remaining attacks against them.

This applies only to ranged attacks. Melee attacks require a valid target at the time of the attack.

ACTIONS & ACTION POINTS

1 ACTION POINTS (AP)

You normally have 3 Action Points (AP) each round.
If your Initiative total is 10 or higher, you gain +1 AP for that round.

You spend AP to move, attack, defend, and perform other actions. You may hold unspent AP for later in the round, as described in Initiative, Timing & Reactions.

2 MOVEMENT

You may move up to your Move rate, spending AP as shown below.
You cannot mix movement types in the same round — choose one.

MOVE TYPE	AP COST	DISTANCE	FREE MOVE
Free Move	0 AP	Up to 1 metre.	Once per round during your Action Phase.
Walk	1 AP	Up to your Move rate.	You still retain your Free Move.
Run	2 AP	Up to 2 × your Move rate.	You lose your Free Move.
Sprint	3 AP	Up to 2 × your Move rate + your Athletics.	You lose your Free Move.

3 ATTACK ACTIONS

Attacks use weapons, unarmed strikes or other offensive actions.
Choose the type of attack and spend the required AP.

ATTACK TYPE	AP COST	ATTACK ROLL	DETAILS
Quick Strike (melee only)	1 AP	MELEE 8+ ROLL	A fast, less committed attack. −1 to hit. Deals normal weapon damage but no Effect damage. If the attack misses, it cannot be Counterattacked.
Tactical Attack	2 AP	MELEE 8+ ROLL	A more careful, precise attack. Make a normal attack roll.
All In Attack	3 AP	MELEE 6+ ROLL	A full commitment attack. Uses all 3 AP. You may move up to 2 × your Move rate as part of this attack. You lose your Free Move.

4 DEFENSIVE ACTIONS

You may spend AP to defend against incoming attacks.
You may attempt only ONE Defensive Action against each attack.

DEFENCE TYPE	AP COST	DEFENCE ROLL	DETAILS
Block	1 AP	MELEE 8+ ROLL	Use a held weapon or suitable item to block a melee attack.
Parry	1 AP	MELEE 8+ ROLL	Deflect a melee attack (requires a melee weapon or unarmed).
Dodge	2 AP	ATHLETICS 6+ ROLL	Avoid an attack. Applies to melee or ranged attacks.
Emergency Dodge	All remaining AP	ATHLETICS 6+ ROLL	Compare your Effect with the attacker's Effect. Move 1–3 metres to the side or behind you. You land Prone and count as having moved. All further attacks against you this round are at 12+. Using Emergency Dodge removes Ready. Cannot Emergency Dodge from Prone.

5 AIM

You may spend AP to Aim, gaining a bonus to your next ranged attack roll this round.

AP COST	BONUS	DETAILS
1 AP	+1	Take careful aim.
2 AP	+2	Take extra time to line up the shot.
3 AP	+3	Maximum aim bonus.

You may only apply one Aim bonus per attack.
Aim must be declared before the attack roll is made.

6 OTHER ACTIONS

The following actions have no special rules beyond their AP cost.

ACTION	AP COST
Set Ready	0 AP
Draw Weapon	1 AP
Activate Device	1 AP
Reload	2 AP
Get Up (from Prone)	2 AP

RANGED ATTACKS

1 FIRE MODES

Choose a fire mode and spend the listed AP. All ranged attacks use the weapon's listed damage.

FIRE MODE	AP COST	BASE DIFFICULTY	AMMO USED	EFFECT
Single Shot Standard roll	1 AP	8+	1	Make one ranged attack. Normal damage.
Burst Fire +1 TO ATTACK ROLL	1 AP	8+	ROF	Make one ranged attack at +1 to the attack roll. Normal damage.
Full Auto −1 TO ATTACK ROLL	3 AP	8+	ROF × 3	Make a number of 3-round Burst attacks equal to the weapon's ROF. Resolve each Burst separately at −1 to the attack roll.

2 STEP FIRE

Full Auto may be divided between multiple targets.

- No more than 1 metre of empty space may separate consecutive targets.
- Allocate the available Bursts between valid targets in any order.
- All Bursts use the same Target Difficulty: use the Difficulty of the hardest target in the group.
- Resolve each Burst separately.
- Every Full Auto Burst suffers −1 to its attack roll.
- Single Shot and Burst Fire cannot be divided between targets.

3 DIFFICULTY LEVELS

Each Difficulty Level increases the target number by 2.

Difficulty Level	0	1	2	3	4	5
Target Number	8+	10+	12+	14+	16+	18+

4 MAKING A RANGED ATTACK

Follow these steps to resolve a ranged attack.

1. CHOOSE TARGET	2. SET TARGET DIFFICULTY	3. ROLL ATTACK	4. DETERMINE EFFECT	5. DEFENDER REACTS	6. RESOLVE DAMAGE
Choose a valid target within range and line of sight.	Begin with the Base Difficulty of the chosen fire mode (normally 8+). Apply any Target Difficulty Modifiers. These change the number you need to roll.	Roll 2d6 and apply any Attack Roll Modifiers. These modify your dice result, not the target Difficulty.	If your modified roll equals the target number, you score Effect 0. For every point above the target number, gain +1 Effect.	The defender may spend AP to attempt one Defensive Action against the attack (Block, Parry, Dodge or Emergency Dodge). Compare the defender's Effect with the attacker's Effect. Subtract the defender's Effect from the attacker's Effect.	Any remaining attacker Effect is applied to the attack. Apply weapon damage and determine any relevant SFX normally.

5 TARGET DIFFICULTY MODIFIERS

These change the target's Difficulty Level (and therefore the target number).

SITUATION	DIFFICULTY
Target moved this round	+1 Level
Target is Ready	+1 Level
Target is Ready and moved	+2 Levels (total)
Target Dodged	+1 Level
Target is in Cover	+1 Level
Target is beyond Short Range	+1 Level
Bad visibility (darkness, fog, smoke, etc.)	+1 Level
Second or later attacker	−1 Level

EACH INCREASE OF 1 DIFFICULTY LEVEL RAISES THE TARGET NUMBER BY 2.

8+ → 10+ → 12+ → 14+ → 16+ → 18+

6 ATTACK ROLL MODIFIERS

These modify the attacker's 2d6 roll. They do not change the target Difficulty.

SITUATION	ROLL MODIFIER
Attacker moved this round	−1
Attacker is Prone	+1
Burst Fire	+1
Full Auto	−1
Aim (declared before roll)	+1 to +3

ATTACK MODIFIERS CHANGE YOUR ROLL, NOT THE TARGET DIFFICULTY.

Example: You roll 9 with Burst Fire (+1) = 10.

7 EXAMPLES

EXAMPLE 1 – MOVED + READY

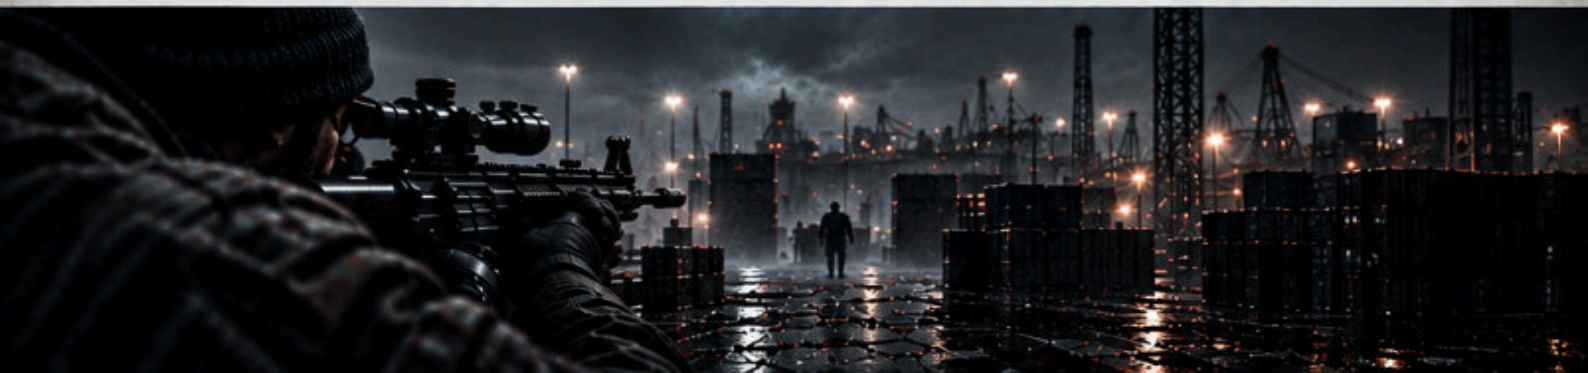
A target normally requires 8+ to hit.
The target moved this round: +1 Difficulty Level → 10+.
The target is also Ready: another +1 Difficulty Level → 12+.
The attacker must therefore roll against 12+.

If the attacker uses Burst Fire, they receive +1 to their attack roll.
The target remains 12+.

EXAMPLE 2 – STEP FIRE (MULTIPLE TARGETS)

You use Full Auto against two targets.
Target A would normally be Difficulty 8+.
Target B is in Cover and would be Difficulty 10+.

Because the Full Auto attack is being split between them, all Bursts use the harder Target Difficulty: 10+.
Each Burst is then resolved separately with the Full Auto −1 attack roll modifier.



DAMAGE & DEFENCE

1 DAMAGE RESOLUTION

Use this equation to determine how much damage is taken.

Weapon Damage + Attack Effect − Toughness − Armour = Damage Taken

- Roll the weapon's damage dice.
- Add the remaining Attack Effect from the attack roll (after defence).
- Subtract the target's Toughness.
- Subtract the target's Armour value (AV).
- Minimum result is 0.
- Apply damage to the appropriate track (Physical or Spiritual).
- Consult the relevant SFX table (Light, Medium or Heavy).
- If the result is 0, the attack still hits and the appropriate Light SFX table is rolled.

2 DAMAGE TRACKS

Characters have two separate damage tracks.

PHYSICAL DAMAGE TRACK

END → STR → AGI

Endurance — Strength — Agility

When an Attribute is reduced to 0, any further damage is applied to the next Attribute in the track. When Agility reaches 0, the character is dead.

SPIRITUAL DAMAGE TRACK

ESS → WILL → CHA

Essence — Willpower — Charisma

When an Attribute is reduced to 0, any further damage is applied to the next Attribute in the track. When Charisma reaches 0, the character is destroyed (spiritually).

3 TOUGHNESS & ARMOUR

TOUGHNESS

- Physical Toughness is your Endurance (END) modifier.
- Spiritual Toughness is your Essence (ESS) modifier.
- Both are calculated from the Attribute's maximum value and do not fall as END or ESS is reduced.

ARMOUR

- Armour provides additional protection. Subtract the Armour Value (AV) from the total damage after Toughness (minimum 0).
- Different locations may have different AV values (see equipment section). Some attacks may ignore Armour or reduce its effectiveness (e.g. AP).

4 COMBAT CONDITIONS

STUNNED

When you are Stunned:

- Lose your next 3 AP.
- At the start of your next Action Phase, make a WILL 8+ test.
- If you succeed, you recover 1 AP.
- If you fail, you remain at 0 AP for that Action Phase.

PRONE

- A prone character is on the ground.
- They must spend 2 AP to get up.
- Attacks against a prone target are at +2 to the attacker's roll.
- A prone character may crawl (½ normal movement) but cannot run.
- Some effects may automatically cause Prone.

5 SFX LEVEL CHANGES

Normally, use the SFX table for the weapon's damage category (Light, Medium or Heavy). The result may be increased by one level (maximum) under the following circumstances:

- The remaining Attack Effect is 6 or more.
- The attacker has the relevant Weapon Mastery.
- The target is Stunned.

Increase the result by one level only:
Light → Medium → Heavy.

6 NON-LETHAL COMBAT & THRESHOLD TESTS

NON-LETHAL COMBAT

When Endurance reaches 0 in a fight everystands to be non-lethal, make a WILL 8+ test.

- If you succeed, you may continue to act at 0 Endurance.
- If you fail, you are out of the fight — stay down, back off, surrender, or otherwise make it clear you've had enough.

KEY THRESHOLD TESTS

I'M GETTING TOO OLD FOR THIS SHIT WILL 8+

When Endurance reaches 0 (non-lethal), make a WILL 8+ test.
Success: Keep fighting at 0 Endurance.
Failure: You are out of the fight (see left).

K.O. TEST END 8+

When Strength reaches 0, make an END 8+ test to remain conscious.
Success: You remain conscious and damage continues into Agility.
Failure: You are knocked out.

7 EXAMPLE: RESOLVING DAMAGE

A worked example using a Medium Melee attack.

1	Attack Roll	Attacker hits with a Medium Melee weapon.
2	Damage Roll	Rolls 4d6 for a total of 14.
3	Attack Effect	Attack roll has an Effect of 4 (after defence).
4	Apply Toughness	Target's Toughness is 3. 14 + 4 − 3 = 15.
5	Apply Armour	Target's Armour is 5. 15 − 5 = 10.
6	Apply Damage	10 points of damage are applied to the target's Physical Damage Track, starting with Endurance.

8 EXTRA RULES

- Spiritual-realm damage: Apply to the Spiritual Damage Track (ESS → WILL → CHA).
- Unarmed attacks: Use the Unarmed damage listed in the Weapons section.
- Ranged blocking: Some weapons and gear can be used to block ranged attacks (see equipment section).
- Extras and Bosses: Some creatures use modified SFX tables or special rules (see creature entries).
- Always check the weapon, power or creature description for exceptions.

9 IMPORTANT POINTS

- Use the correct damage track (Physical or Spiritual).
- Toughness is the END or ESS modifier (maximum value).
- Damage is always applied in order, left to right.
- SFX results may be increased by one level (maximum).
- At 0 Endurance, make a WILL 8+ test to keep fighting (non-lethal).

CHILDHOOD

FAMILY

Roll d66 once on this table. The result describes a relationship or family circumstance that mattered during your early childhood. It does not determine your Background. You decide who these people were, why the situation existed, and what it meant to you.

d66	RESULT
11	You were particularly close to one parent or guardian and followed them almost everywhere.
12	You loved both of your parents or guardians, but they rarely agreed about what was best for you.
13	One parent or guardian was frequently absent from your life, although you never completely lost contact.
14	One parent or guardian disappeared from your life entirely. You were never given a satisfactory explanation.
15	You were raised primarily by one parent or guardian, with another adult occasionally drifting in and out of your life.
16	Much of your childhood was spent moving between two different households.
21	An older sibling was the person you trusted most.
22	A younger sibling depended heavily upon you, even when you were still very young yourself.
23	You and one sibling were inseparable and rarely did anything without the other.
24	You and one sibling fought constantly, but nobody else was allowed to hurt or threaten them.
25	You grew up in the shadow of a sibling everyone seemed to admire.
26	A sibling left the family while you were still young, and their absence was rarely discussed.
31	A grandparent or much older relative played an unusually important part in raising you.
32	You had an older relative who always seemed to understand you better than your parents or guardians did.
33	One relative was treated as the embarrassment of the family, but you liked them.
34	One relative was admired by almost everyone in the family, and you desperately wanted their approval.
35	Your family regularly included someone who was not actually related to you, but whom everyone treated as one of their own.
36	There was a relative you were repeatedly warned to stay away from, although nobody clearly explained why.

d66	RESULT
41	You were an only child and spent a great deal of time in the company of adults.
42	You were one of several children and constantly had to compete for attention.
43	You were the child everyone in the family worried about most. You never completely understood why.
44	You were considered the dependable child, and adults often expected more of you than of the others.
45	You were considered the difficult child, even when you felt you were being perfectly reasonable.
46	You were frequently compared to another member of the family, whether you liked the comparison or not.
51	For part of your childhood, you lived with relatives or family friends rather than your usual parent or guardian.
52	Someone joined your household unexpectedly and became an important part of your childhood.
53	Someone who had always been part of your household suddenly left it.
54	Your household changed significantly when one of your parents or guardians began a new relationship.
55	You gained a step-sibling, adopted sibling, or other new child in the family and had to learn how to share your place in it.
56	Your family took responsibility for another child for a time, and you came to think of them as a sibling.
61	There was one subject your family simply did not discuss, and you learned very young not to ask about it.
62	Your family kept an important secret from outsiders. You knew enough to understand that it mattered, but not necessarily why.
63	Your family had a tradition that seemed perfectly normal to you until you discovered other families did things differently.
64	One member of your family made you a promise when you were young. Whether they kept it is up to you.
65	Your earliest strong memory is of your whole family coming together because something important had happened. You decide what it was.
66	There is someone you have always regarded as family even though there is no blood or legal relationship between you.

CHILDHOOD

FORMATIVE EVENT

Roll d66 once on this table. Something happened during your childhood that stayed with you. The result tells you what happened, but not why, who was responsible, or what it ultimately meant. You decide the details.

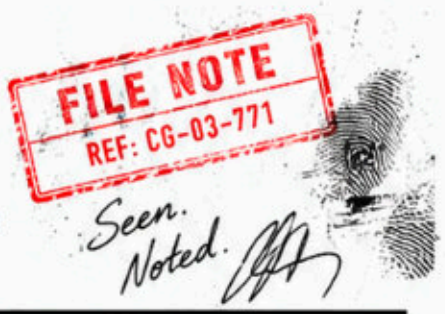
d66	RESULT
11	You became separated from the people looking after you and were missing long enough for them to become seriously worried.
12	You were badly frightened by something that, looking back, may have been completely harmless.
13	You were caught doing something you absolutely knew you were not supposed to be doing.
14	You were blamed for something you did not do. Someone important to you believed the accusation.
15	Someone else took the blame for something you had done. You never forgot it.
16	You told a serious lie and, to your surprise, everyone believed you.
21	You found something valuable and had to decide what to do with it. You decide what you chose.
22	You discovered something that clearly belonged to someone else but had been deliberately hidden.
23	You accidentally learned something about an adult that you were never supposed to know.
24	You overheard a conversation you did not understand at the time. Years later, you realised what they had been talking about.
25	You opened, entered, or explored somewhere you had specifically been told never to go.
26	You saw something you have never been able to explain. Nobody who heard your story could explain it either.
31	You were seriously ill or injured and spent a long time recovering.
32	You witnessed someone being badly hurt and could do nothing to stop it.
33	You were present when someone unexpectedly saved another person's life.
34	You helped someone who was in genuine trouble, even though you were frightened yourself.
35	You caused an accident. Nobody was killed, but the consequences were serious enough that you still remember it clearly.
36	You survived a dangerous situation that could very easily have ended differently.

d66	RESULT
41	You won something that seemed enormously important to you at the time.
42	You failed spectacularly at something you desperately wanted to succeed at.
43	You were publicly praised for something you had done and discovered how it felt to have everyone looking at you.
44	You were publicly humiliated over something that seemed devastating at the time.
45	You stood up to someone you were genuinely afraid of. What happened afterwards is up to you.
46	Someone stood up for you when you could not — or would not — stand up for yourself.
51	You made a friend in completely unexpected circumstances.
52	A friendship you thought would last forever ended suddenly. You decide why.
53	You betrayed someone's trust, deliberately or accidentally, and they found out.
54	Someone you trusted betrayed you over something that mattered deeply to you at the time.
55	You made a promise without understanding how difficult it would be to keep.
56	You were given responsibility for something important and, for the first time, somebody genuinely depended upon you.
61	You went somewhere far from everything familiar to you and saw a completely different way of living.
62	Something you took for granted suddenly disappeared from your life. You did not realise how important it was until it was gone.
63	Something you desperately wanted finally became yours, only for you to discover it was not what you had imagined.
64	A complete stranger showed you unexpected kindness at exactly the moment you needed it.
65	You did something nobody thought you were capable of doing — including, perhaps, yourself.
66	For one brief moment, you experienced something so strange that even now you are uncertain whether it actually happened.

CHILDHOOD

INFLUENCE

Roll d66 once on this table. Someone or something helped shape the person you were becoming. The result tells you who or what it was, but not why, how it affected you, or whether you still feel the same way today. You decide the details.



d66	RESULT
11	There was an adult you desperately wanted to be like when you grew up.
12	An adult took you seriously when most people still treated you like a child.
13	Someone expected more from you than you thought you were capable of giving.
14	Someone was consistently kind to you without ever seeming to expect anything in return.
15	Someone you admired disappointed you badly. You never looked at them quite the same way again.
16	Someone you initially disliked eventually earned your respect.
21	You knew someone who seemed completely unafraid of what other people thought of them.
22	Someone taught you that rules and doing the right thing were not always the same thing.
23	Someone convinced you that keeping your word mattered, even when doing so hurt.
24	Someone taught you that trusting the wrong person could be expensive.
25	Someone repeatedly told you that you were capable of something nobody else seemed to see in you.
26	Someone believed something about the world that everyone around them considered ridiculous. You were never sure whether they were wrong.
31	You became fascinated by a story you heard over and over again. You decide whether you ever learned if it was true.
32	A particular book, recording, picture, or other piece of media became enormously important to you.
33	There was a place where you felt more comfortable than anywhere else. You decide where and why.
34	There was a place that frightened you, although you could never completely explain why.
35	You became fascinated by something most other children found boring, strange, or difficult to understand.
36	You encountered an idea that made you question something you had always assumed was true.

d66	RESULT
41	You saw someone refuse to back down even though doing so would have made their life much easier.
42	You saw someone admit they were wrong when they could easily have gotten away with lying.
43	You watched someone sacrifice something important for another person.
44	You saw someone take advantage of another person's trust and apparently suffer no consequences for it.
45	You watched someone break a rule for what seemed like a very good reason.
46	You witnessed someone being treated unfairly and noticed how differently the people around you reacted to it.
51	Someone considerably older than you became an unlikely friend.
52	Someone close to your own age seemed to understand the world far better than you did.
53	You had a rival who pushed you harder than encouragement ever could.
54	You knew someone everyone else disliked, but you never entirely understood why.
55	You knew someone everybody trusted, but something about them always made you uncomfortable.
56	You became fascinated by someone you met only once and never saw again.
61	You were taught that asking the right question could matter more than knowing the answer.
62	You learned from someone that almost anything could be funny under the right circumstances.
63	Someone showed you that being frightened and being cowardly were not the same thing.
64	Someone taught you that people rarely reveal everything about themselves at once.
65	Someone gave you advice you did not understand until years later. You decide what they said.
66	Someone told you something about yourself that you have never been able to completely dismiss. You decide whether they were right.

CHILDHOOD

LEGACY

Roll d66 once on this table. Something from your childhood remained with you long after childhood ended. It may be important, trivial, comforting, troublesome, or still unexplained. You decide where it came from, why you kept it, and what it means to you now.

SOME THINGS NEVER STAY IN THE PAST

d66	RESULT
11	You still own something you were given as a child. You have never seriously considered getting rid of it.
12	You kept something that belonged to somebody who was once important to you. They may or may not know you have it.
13	You possess something whose original purpose you have never completely understood.
14	You still have something you were specifically told never to lose. You decide who entrusted it to you.
15	You kept something you probably should have returned a long time ago.
16	Something precious to you disappeared during childhood. You have never learned what happened to it.
21	There is someone from your childhood you would help without needing to know why they asked.
22	There is someone from your childhood you hope never to see again.
23	There is someone you knew as a child whom you have always wondered about. You have no idea what became of them.
24	Someone from your childhood still believes you owe them something. You may or may not agree.
25	Someone from your childhood owes you a debt that has never been repaid. You decide whether you care.
26	You once promised somebody that if they ever needed you, you would come. As far as you know, they still remember.
31	There is a place from your childhood you have always wanted to see again.
32	There is a place from your childhood you have deliberately never returned to.
33	There is somewhere you remember clearly but have never been able to find again.
34	You remember a place very differently from everyone else who claims to have known it.
35	You know exactly where something was hidden when you were a child. As far as you know, it is still there.
36	There is somewhere from your childhood where you left something behind intentionally. You decide what and why.

d66	RESULT
41	You have kept a secret since childhood that you have never told anyone.
42	You know a secret that is not yours to tell. The person it belongs to may not know that you know it.
43	Someone knows something about your childhood that you would rather other people did not learn.
44	There is a question about your childhood that nobody has ever answered satisfactorily.
45	You discovered years later that something you had always believed about your childhood was untrue. You still don't know the whole truth.
46	You remember something from childhood that everyone else involved insists happened differently.
51	There is something you refuse to do because of what happened when you were young. You decide what and why.
52	There is something you have always wanted to do because you were never allowed to do it as a child.
53	You still follow one small habit or ritual from childhood, even though you no longer need to.
54	You have never forgotten a piece of advice you were given as a child. You decide whether you actually follow it.
55	There is one mistake from childhood you would undo if you ever had the chance.
56	There is one thing you did as a child that you remain quietly proud of. Almost nobody else remembers it.
61	You have always felt that you left something unfinished in your childhood. You have never been quite sure what finishing it would require.
62	Somebody made you a promise when you were young and never fulfilled it. Part of you still remembers.
63	You were once given an explanation for something important that never completely made sense. You have occasionally wondered whether you were deliberately lied to.
64	There is a name from your childhood that you have never forgotten, although you no longer know why it mattered.
65	You occasionally remember something from childhood that feels important, but part of the memory is missing.
66	Something from your childhood has followed you into adult life, although you still do not understand what it wants from you. You decide whether "something" means a person, a problem, a memory – or something else entirely.
